games, they were unable to come up with a win. The team was down, but vowed to come together to pull off future wins.

All of the matches were somewhat close. The score for the first match was 23-30 Southern Wesleyan; the second match was 18-30; and the third match was 23-30.

The leaders in stats were desperate attempts to come back, yet they just couldn't shake off the first two losses to do so. They played hard and should bounce back from this defeat.

The next game for the Brevard College Lady Tornados Volleyball is Friday, September 8, at 6:30 p.m. They will play Covenant.
