

ODK inducts new members

by Jamie Michaels
Opinion Editor

Last Saturday, Oct. 28, the Brevard Circle of the Omicron Delta Kappa National Leadership Honor Society accepted 11 students and one faculty member into membership.

Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK) is a national organization that recognizes academic excellence, integrity, and community leadership and involvement. Application for membership is offered to juniors and seniors at the top of their respective classes. Members are selected based on their excellence in the five areas ODK emphasizes: scholarship, athletics, campus and community service, journalism publications and the mass media, and creative and performing arts.

Brevard College's ODK inductions were held this year in the Francis Pavilion of the Porter Center at 10:00 a.m. This year's student inductees are:

- Adam Beeson
- Kimberlee Cooper
- Christopher Dimond
- April Grist
- Amanda Ivey
- Carolyn Kauffman
- Erica Petit
- Nancy Pugh
- Aimee Rogers
- Bret Stewart
- Evelyn Pearson

Also accepted into membership was faculty member Dr. Mary Louise Bringle.

These individuals deserve sincere congratulations on their accomplishments

ODK inductees, left to right: (rear) Christopher Dimond, Adam Beeson, Bret Stewart, April Grist, Carolyn Kauffman. (front) Erica Petit, Evelyn Pearson, Aimee Rogers, Kimberlee Cooper.

Photo courtesy of Jamie Michaels

Police stop fight outside Beam Hall

by Tom Cowan
News Editor

Shortly past midnight on the morning of Thursday Oct. 26, police were called to campus to remove two threatening and disruptive non-students from the lobby of Beam Hall.

One witness, Ryan Burleson, estimated that a crowd of between 75 and 100 students, many of them angry football players, surrounded the two individuals, who were using racial slurs and making threats such as 'I'm going to get a gun and shoot every one of you!'

Neither of the individuals had a gun, but according to Burleson, one of the individuals was holding a glass bottle and the other was armed with what appeared to be a pool ball in a sock. According to Head of Security Stan Jacobsen, a

Brevard police officer threatened to use a taser gun on one of the individuals who initially refused to cooperate.

While witnesses say both individuals were taken away in a police car, only one of the individuals was arrested at that time. According to court documents, Scott Young, age 23, was arrested on the Brevard College campus on one charge of intoxicated and disruptive behavior and another charge of communicating threats.

According to Jacobsen, the other individual, William Wohlers, was not arrested on campus, but was arrested after a separate incident several hours later. Court documents indicate that Wohlers, age 22, was arrested later that day for intoxicated and disruptive behavior at a local Triangle Stop parking lot.

What's Inside?

Basketball.....	14
Classifieds.....	16
Election Information ....	2
False Advertising.....	12
Horoscope.....	11
Letters to Editor.....	6
Movie Reviews.....	13
News.....	2
Opinion.....	4
Put It Away.....	8
Sports.....	14