Chamber Choir in Charleston

by Josie Guinn
Opinion Editor

This Spring Break, while the rest of the student body gets some well deserved rest and relaxation, the Brevard College Chamber Choir will be going on tour to Charleston, South Carolina.

Leaving at noon on Saturday the 3rd, the chorus will be performing at six separate times before their return late Tuesday night.

They will be singing at various churches and schools in the area, performing what should prove to be an interesting array of music.

Good luck to them all, and may their travels be safe.
