

Job fair in the RDR

Looking for a summer job, internship or long-term employment? Wednesday, Feb. 7, look for the annual Summer Job and Camp, from 11 a.m. - 2 p.m. in the Reserve Dining Room (RDR.) The event is free and open to the Brevard College Community. Last year 200 people came through the Aux Gym looking for summer work.

Stop in during lunch hours to find fun and profitable summer offers. This is an excellent opportunity for students to network and discuss employment opportunities. Students will see organizations from the Carolinas and several groups from GA.

Employers will be on hand and participants will have the chance to find out more about each organization as well as discuss summer employment opportunities. Attendees are advised to bring their resumes and be prepared to network with professionals.

For more information on the Job fair, contact Nacole Potts, Director of Career Exploration & Development at BC.

Don't miss the Jazz Drivers

Come to the Square Root Restaurant at 9 p.m. this Saturday to watch Cameron Austin, a BC professor, play bass with his band, the Jazz Drivers.

Also in the trio are drummer Bill Berg, who played drums on Bob Dylan's album Blood on the Tracks, and guitarist Marc Yaxley.

The Square Root is located just off of Main

St., right in the heart of downtown Brevard between Broad and Caldwell Streets in an alley called Times Arcade. At the end of Times Arcade is Jordan St., where there is reserved parking for Square Root guests.

They will also be playing tonight at 8 p.m. at the Southern Appalachian Brewery, 822 Locust Street, Hendersonville.

Valentine

Men you know what February means... and that's why BC-SERVES has got you covered. On Valentine's Day, carnations, roses, and daisies will be sold in the cafeteria throughout the day until dinner for $2 with the option of attaching a personal message.

Significant others, friends, professors, and even roommates! Everyone wants to be remembered so why not with a flower on Valentine's Day? Proceeds will be going to help Charlie's Angels Animal Rescue (CAAR) to help animals that have been abused and neglected.

So don't worry if you forget Valentine's Day (Feb. 14th), this year, we have the flower thing down.
