

Leggings are pants

By Carmen Boone
Copy Editor

Leggings are a hot topic of controversy when discussing clothing options. Are they pants or aren't they? Let's take a look at some of the benefits of leggings.

Contrary to some beliefs, leggings are perfectly good pants. They are comfortable and allow extra room to move. Whether trying to get somewhere in a hurry or just trying to lounge around and relax, leggings provide breathing room and plenty of stretchy material for extra mobility. They are more comfortable than jeans and serve more of a purpose.

Leggings look great and highlight the shape of the legs. Because of the tight yet stretchy material, the curves of the legs are illuminated and they make you look and feel like a million dollars.

Leggings are also the most stylish kind of pants to wear. They are a confidence booster. When going out into public, looking good can sometimes be a big concern. Why bother wearing pants that are common or uncomfortable? Leggings look great, feel great and give you the right style for any occasion.

Any clothing store that you go to, you are likely to find a pair of leggings. They not only come in black and grey, they come with printed patterns, all the colors of the rainbow and you can find a pair to match any shirt you may have.

Leggings are revolutionary. They are a very popular choice of pants. Want to be the most stylish one in the room? That's easy. Wear leggings, highlight your curves and walk around like you own the place.

No matter what style of leggings you choose to wear, wear them proudly and with confidence. With leggings on, you are wearing the pants of the century.

Goodbye pancake break, hello casserole night

By Brock Tuttle
Staff Writer

Everybody knows that the Pancake Break is one of Brevard College's most famous traditions. The seniors especially, having had seven pancake breaks in their time here, know this tradition all too well.

However, due to numerous complaints by students about the unhealthiness, lack of pancakes offered and the stomach aches they get later in the night, the staff have decided to provide something more desirable to students.

In an effort to help students study for their final exams, the Myers Dining Hall will be hosting Casserole Night. There will be 10 different casseroles that will be offered to the students.

The different casserole dishes will be chicken noodle casserole, squash casserole, pepperoni pizza pasta casserole, breakfast casserole, eggplant parmesan casserole, sweet potato casserole, macaroni and cheese casserole, cheesy chicken and spinach casserole, green bean casserole, and cheeseburger casserole. These casserole dishes are going to be a much healthier option and are said to give students more "brain power".

The staff see Casserole Night as a much better tradition that will last much longer than the silly pancake break. Some staff members are already signed up to volunteer during the study break and are really looking forward to eating some casserole for themselves. Some students say that they feel like casseroles will bring everybody much closer because of the enjoyment that people will have when eating.

Another thing the staff have decided to do is to get rid of the raffles. The reason behind this change is to focus on the delicious casseroles and interactions amongst students and to prevent any jealousy of the raffle winners.

Casserole Night will be on Monday, April 29th from 10pm-11pm. Everyone should be looking forward to this study break because of the delicious food and the beginning of a new tradition.

Hilaro-scopes this week

— Mary Lewe

Aries

You're struggling to hear your inner voice. Probably because your outer voice can't stop shouting! Try talking a little quieter, for your sake and everyone else's.

Taurus

Your sign is known as the bull. Have you ever known a bull to make many friends? If your friendships are strained right now, stop charging at wave of the matador's muleta.

Gemini

Your knowledge is a mile wide and an inch deep. So stop acting like an expert! If you think you aren't driving your friends nuts then that's just one more thing you're wrong about.

Cancer

You're known for being crafty, but has your craft area become your panic room? We're starting to worry about you, Cancer. Also, you have yarn in your hair...

Leo

Sure you're looking hot, but what's cooking on the inside? We want you to be yourself, but could you try for a less rapid approach. There's more to life than good hair.

Virgo

Your smile is contagious, but if that grin is the common cold, your nervous energy is influenza. Try to ride the wave this week, don't let the wave ride you!

Libra

You okay?

Scorpio

You love to play games, but have the rules of engagement been established? Probably not. Prepare yourself for utter disaster.

Sagittarius

You think you want to do it all, but enjoy a dose of reality before you're trapped into something you ultimately will hate. (Do you really want to drive an hour to meet someone from Tinder? No.)

Capricorn

Have you been running your mouth? Be careful whose secrets you're spilling. You could end up sleeping with the fishes if you aren't careful. In other words, zip

Aquarius

Spring has sprung. Take time to stop and Google search for a picture of roses this week. You deserve it, weirdo! If you have more time, check out a YouTube video of someone walking in a park.

Pisces

The hot tip any person born between Feb. 18 and March 20 can't live without? Cry in the shower! Best of all, the sound of the water will cover your sobs. Score!