

Presidential Notes (continued)

Speaking of movies, I understand the UNC Psychology Department has just acquired a positive gay film entitled "Some Of Your Best Friends." We'll be scheduling this movie for one of our future meetings.

Requests for speakers have come from as far away as Winston-Salem and Kinston, in addition to requests for speakers in university classes, R.A. training sessions, and at freshman "Y" camp. In the next week, we plan to distribute information about our Speaker's Bureau to all university departments and campus groups. If you're interested in speaking, please let me or Mike Young know. We could definitely use 3 or 4 more confident speakers to cover any upcoming talks. Two other upcoming projects also need mentioning. First, plans are in the works to investigate the possibility of a gay studies course here at UNC. Secondly, several members are working on new legislation to propose to the Board of Aldermen which would ban discrimination due to sexual or affectional preferences in the areas of housing and public gathering places. Last year CGA member Tom Carr helped to get an ordinance passed banning discrimination in employment for any employee of the Town of Chapel Hill due to his/her sexual or affectional preference.

The NORTH CAROLINA GAY UNION, a statewide organization committed to the promotion of a more positive gay life-style through the elimination of social and legal discrimination, will hold its next meeting next month. November 6 has been set as the meeting date. Duke Campus will host the meeting. For more information contact Dan Leonard or myself.

As you see, we have been busy and plan to stay quite busy throughout the coming year. If you've never attended one of our meetings or rap sessions, or if you haven't attended one in a while, come join us. The meetings are informative, the rap sessions interesting and thought provoking, and the dances and social events entertaining and fun. We welcome your support in the exacting year ahead of us.

**SECOND ANNUAL SOUTHEASTERN GAY CONFERENCE****

The first Annual Southeastern Gay Conference last April was a huge success, due to the energies and input of so many people. The SECOND Annual Southeastern Gay Conference promises to be an even bigger and better affair!

The first planning meeting for the conference is scheduled for Saturday, October 23, 1976, in the Carolina Student Union, Room 207, from 1 to 5 PM. Conference participants from last year, as well as any other interested people, are urged to attend this meeting.
