

(Letters - Continued)

This second letter was received just a few days ago. Nonetheless, we felt it merited equal voice in the newsletter.

Dear Student Union,

I am interested in joining your Club and group. (The letter was addressed to Box 39 Student Union.) Do you have a magazine or newspaper. How much does it cost to run an ad in it. I am interested in corresponding with gay people. Thank you.

Yours truly,

Charles T. Collins

CGA LIBRARY HOURS

The CGA library is still temporarily being housed in the office of the Human Sexuality Information and Counseling Service, Suite B, Carolina Union. Daytime office hours are Monday, 9-5; Tuesday, 11-12:45; Wednesday, 11-1:30; Thursday, 3:30-5:30; and Friday, 1-3. Night hours are Monday through Thursday, 7-9 PM. Books may be checked out with a student ID or driver's license.

If you currently have any books out of the library which you are not using, PLEASE return them. The library gets a lot of use and you are only cheating somebody else out of information that could help cure their homophobia. So bring these books back. THANKS. -- The Librarian

HEAD PROBLEMS?

Just a reminder that several counseling facilities are available in the Triangle area. So, if you've got a problem and don't know what to do about it, search out the advice of someone who can help. The services in the area are:

- Cross Point Counseling Service in Durham
- UNC Guidance and Counseling Service in Nash Hall, Chapel Hill
- Human Sexuality Counseling and Information Service, Suite B
Carolina Student Union, Chapel Hill
- Switch Board in Chapel Hill
- Student Mental Health Service in NC Memorial Hospital, Chapel Hill
