

One problem remains. How do you find and buy these books without embarrassment when you're just coming out. If you're out enough to stop by the CGA office in the Carolina Union, we have a fairly good collection that circulates. If you decide to buy, a completely hassle-free environment exists at the Regulator Bookstore in Durham, which maintains a specific section on homosexuality and lesbians. They stock a nice collection that includes many of the books on this list. The Bull's Head Bookshop in the UNC Student Stores puts some of their books on gays and lesbians in the Him/Her/Self section (07). Unfortunately I always seems to run into 86 people I haven't told when I go up to pay for my book there.

A simple way out of the whole mess is to order your books through the mail. There is Friends of Dorothy bookstore in Charlotte and Giovanni's Room in Philadelphia. And Lambda Rising's 112 page catalog lists more titles than you will believe.

Sorry if I've omitted the crucial book that changed your life; most of these are ones I'll vouch for personally. Some people like to read their way out of the closet (or at least sit in the closet with the light on reading away until they build up courage); the more you know about how other people have faced coming to terms with who they are and who they needed to be, the easier the whole process.
