

CoComments

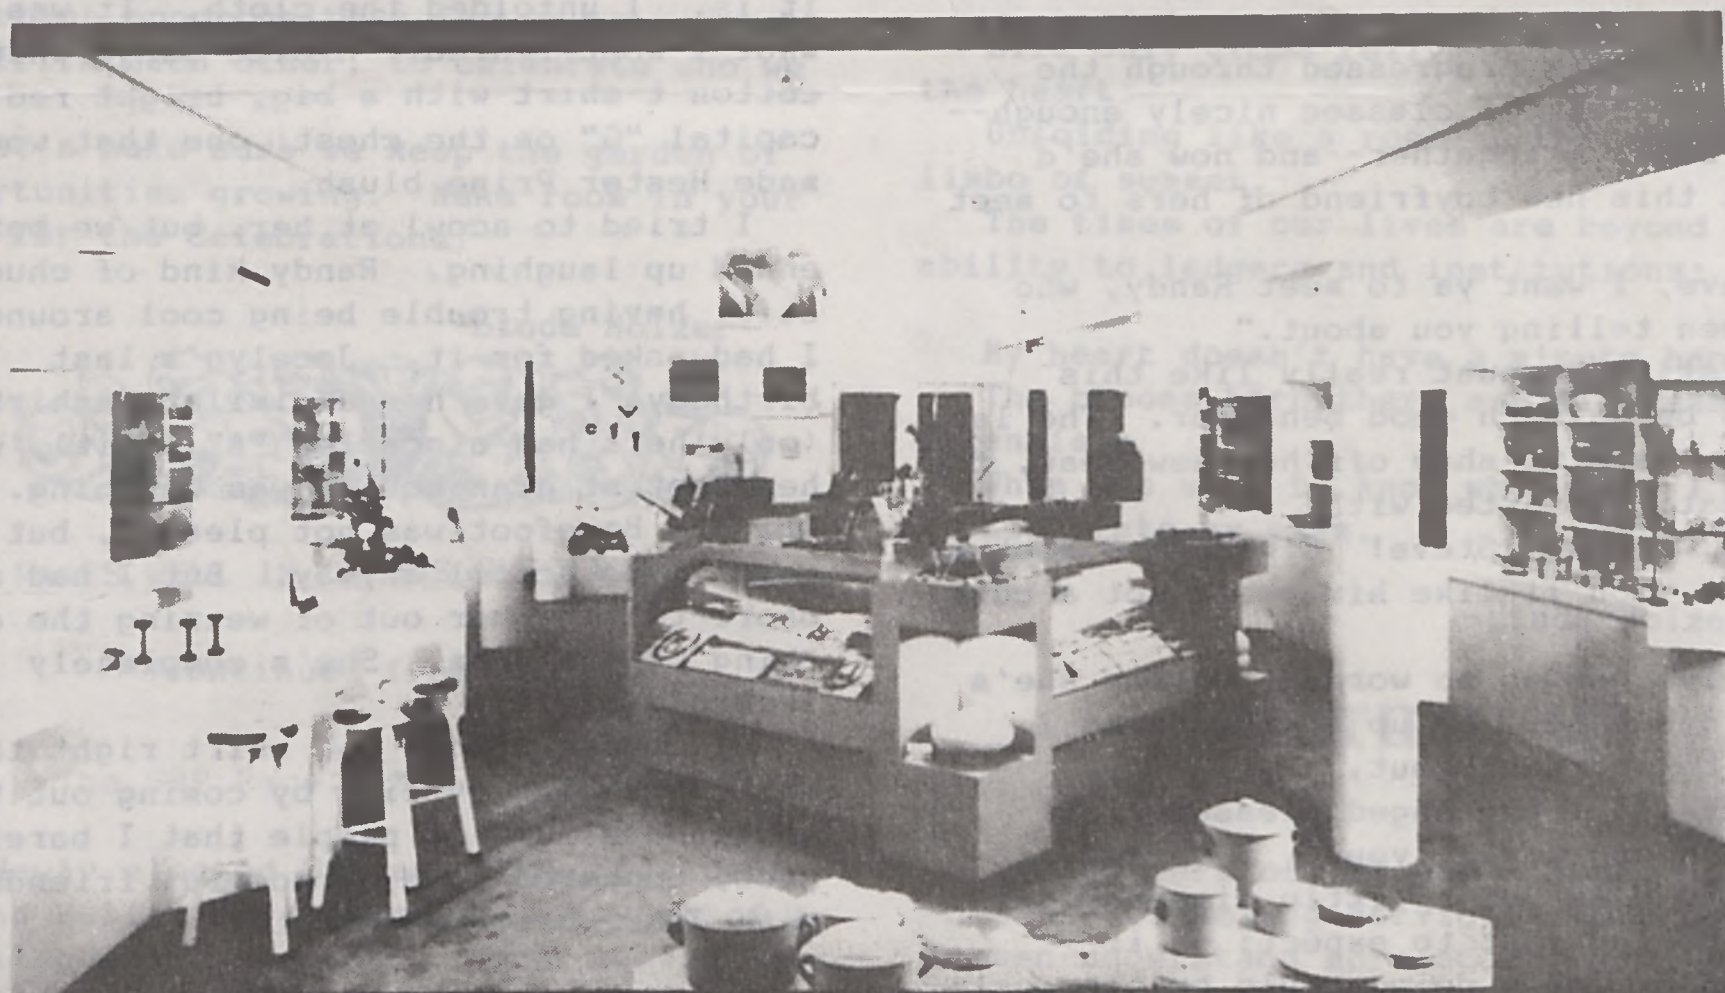

Luckily, our new editor is enforcing deadlines. So this will be quick. Best of luck and congratulations to the Our Place gang for a fun-filled second fundraiser. Stay tuned for a lesbian space in Durham!! The response to CGLA's outreach activities, Lambda and our monthly events--especially Jay Goldspinner's lesbian love stories--has been tremendous. Keep your "Eyes on the Prize" (an appropriate motto and a brilliant examination of the civil rights movement on public television this past January). Please join us in celebrating Black History Month in February and Women's History Month in March. See you soon.

-Lynn Hudson

By now everyone is either complaining about classes or just waiting for the end of the semester--or both! As for me, it's both. Graduation is near, and many of us are anxiously waiting to "twirl" in Kenan Stadium. We must plan a major party...

I want to thank all the people who have helped so much in making CGLA a success, as well as the fine people who support civil rights for all human beings. There is no reason for CGLA or any group to be treated as sub-human, and we must continue to demand our rights since they will obviously not be handed over to us. We must stand up for those who are harassed, verbally abused, or the victims of ignorance and prejudice. Also, please everyone come out and show your support for humanity and fairness by joining in the celebrations during Lesbian and Gay Awareness Week on March 30th-April 3rd. See you there!

-Greg Johnson

At cameron's our commitment to quality and imagination combined with a zeal for providing extra service has prevailed for over eight years.

There is only one cameron's, and many of our customers live over a thousand miles away.

cameron's

gallery • gifts • jewelry •

university mall • chapel hill 27514
monday thru saturday • 10 to 9 •

(919) 942-5554