

Strange

Fear

By Maia Kaplan

Continued

collegic athletics, that even I, "SuperDyke," feel the effects. I've found myself putting back my Celebrate Diversity T-shirt when I grab it out of my drawer on lifting days. Well, I'm tired of this strange fear and abnormal silence. I urge athletes to force our own subculture out of it's silence. We can start right on our own campus. I know I'm ready to.

*If you're interested in making a difference, email Maia Kaplan at:

mkaplan@email.unc.edu

Should

your

be

ad

here?

We think so! Lambda has a distribution of 3000 and is a sure way to get your message to the LGBT community.

email: coeditors@hotmail.com
for more information

Internationalist Books

The triangle's own collectively-owned, volunteer-run bookstore and resource center, seeks progressive-minded, enthusiastic participants of all ages and talents to enrich our organization. Run the store, order books and magazines, table at event, design advertisements, organize programs and projects, and contribute to our decision-making. Learn valuable skills or give your knowledge back to the community. Flexible participation levels available (eg. 3-hour shifts, project-based, or internships). Contact Internationalist Books at 919-942-1748 for more information or to schedule an orientation.