

Why Not Have Dancing At Louisburg?

Let's Go
Pugilistic!

Lo' Co'

Let's Go
Pugilistic!

Volume II

LOUISBURG COLLEGE, LOUISBURG, N. C., NOVEMBER 21, 1934

Number 5

Trojans Down Teachers 7-6

Sigma Iota Chi Banquets Rushees

Approximately 50 students attended the Thirteen Club banquet which was held in the dining hall of the Franklin Hotel on Wednesday night November 7. The color scheme of the club was carried out very effectively in black and white under candle light. The guests were seated by decorated place cards, to the melodies of Johnnie Weymes' orchestra.

The banquet was opened by Carolyn Whitley (toastmistress), who gave a toast to the rushees, which was responded to by Maxine Wimer. A toast was then presented by Miss Iola Lewis to which Mr. William Richards gave the response.

All were served a delicious three-course dinner consisting of tomato juice cocktail, croquettes, garden peas, cranberries, pickle and potatoes. The dessert was cake with a color background of white icing upon which was artistically designed a 13 of black icing.

Throughout the banquet music was furnished by Johnnie Weymes and his Collegians to which was added the voice of the Harmony Boys in two selections, "The Man On the Flying Trapeze," and "Daisy." Miss Bruns sang "Two Cigarettes in the Dark."

Much spice was added to the program by speeches of the rushees and their escorts. The program was topped off by Dr. Bray and Miss Stipe.

It looks like Virginia is as easy to meet as a girl who thinks you can get her a screen test.

Who's Who

Lo'Co' presents for the unanimous approval of its readers one of its own staff members—Stuart Godfrey. Bred in the rugged individualism of the West Virginia hills and cultured with the finest "Stu" can take his place with the best and yet make the smallest feel at home.

Brother Godfrey calls December 31st his birthday and always is interested in Washington-Irving High of Clarksburg, W. Va., his high school Alma Mater.

The first year Louisburg College was opened for young men, Stuart first entered our school. Besides attending Louisburg College, he has done work at Salem College, Salem, W. Va.

The ex-curricular activities of "Stu", besides courting Louise Brown, are varied and many. A charter member of the K. E. A. and its present Vice President, a Trojan cheer leader, member of International Discussion Club, one of last year's champion debaters, very active as a Louisburg Player, as well as co-editor and co-manager of Lo'Co'. Stuart goes to make his school one of the very best.

Armistice Day Program Is Held At the College

A program of great interest was presented in Mr. Bray's Government II Class Monday morning November 12. This was a special Armistice presentation of readings and talks on the past Great War and the horrible aspects of a war in the future. This program was especially interesting to the students because if a war should occur in the next twenty or thirty years we should be the ones to have to bear arms or nurse the wounded, and we who would take an active part find it our duty to our country and to our own well being to see that war is outlawed and that no such destroying force is again turned loose upon the face of the earth to kill, maim, and destroy.

Under a program committee made up of Raymond Blanton, Elaine Sawyer, and Carolyn Whitley, the following talks were made. John W. Davis gave an interesting talk on some of the outstanding features of Armistice.

Wray Brewer delivered an interesting sketch on Pershing's life.

Mae Holliday read an article on chemical warfare of the present day, graphically illustrating the horrors of new gases and new explosives and the irreparable damage they could do.

Mamie Beam as the speaker on armaments gave a very fine address on them giving highlights of recent arms conferences, the arms investigation in Washington, and showing the insidious methods arms manufacturers employed to sell their wares.

Miss Elaine Sawyer acted as chairman on this program.

One thing of importance to note is that in a present Armistice Day speaking, war and its horrors and its prevention are stressed while fifteen years ago flowery oratory on patriotism and love of your country would be particularly noted.

It is up to us, the soldiers and nurses, of the next war to see that no such bloodshed ever occurs again.

Nearly half the boys of the student body attended the football game at Carolina last week end and the biggest part of them were rooting for the Tar Heels.

Notice!

Mrs. Perry has just announced that all cuts on classes, one day prior and one day after the Thanksgiving holidays will count double. For example: If you cut your classes on Wednesday morning it means not the customary one cut but will be counted as two. The same applies to your classes on Monday following your return to school. Classes are over Wednesday at 1:00 p.m. and begin again Monday, December 3 at 8:30 a.m.

R. W. Godfrey Dies In Hospital In Florida

The students of Louisburg College were greatly shocked upon learning of the death of Mr. R. W. Godfrey father of Agnes and Stuart Godfrey, students at Louisburg College. Mr. Godfrey died in Fort Pierce, Fla., Thursday, Nov. 8th, due to a heart attack. Funeral services were held in Fort Pierce where Mr. Godfrey had many friends. Final rites were held in Clarksburg, West Va., on Nov. 12 at his home on 226 Sumner St. Interment was in the family plot of the Clarksburg Odd Fellows cemetery.

The many friends of Agnes and Stuart sympathize deeply with them in their grief and sincerely hope that they will soon be back with us.

The many friends of Agnes Godfrey are glad to welcome her back into our midst. Miss Godfrey was called away by the death of her father.

As yet Stuart is still away but will be with us in a few days.

Plans Complete For Banquet

Plans have now been completed for the Thanksgiving banquet which will be held in the dining hall on Tuesday night prior to our departure for home on Wednesday.

There will be turkey, plenty for all, spices and many other delicious eats, such as have never before been served to the Louisburg students. We'll have speeches and music to cap the affair and we will guarantee you one of the best times ever had at Dear Old Louisburg.

Notice!

CLASS ELECTION TONIGHT

Tonight at 7 o'clock the various classes will select officers for the year 1934-35. The Senior class will hold their election in the English class room. Last year's, President, Fred Hoyle, will act as temporary chairman.

The math room will be the scene of the junior election. Mr. B. B. Bray, Jr., will serve as temporary chairman. The members of the high school department will meet in No. 101 Davis Building where Miss Peyatt will serve as chairman.

Under the direction of Miss Covington, the members of the Business Department will meet in the bookkeeping room of Davis for their election.

Each class will elect a president, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and a member of the Faculty for advisor.

Be patriotic and loyal to your class—meet with the class and aid and cooperate to make tonight's election as successful as possible.

McFaygen Scores On Pass In Second Half

Kats Entertain Rushees At Dinner

The Kappa Alpha Tau Club entertained at a delightful banquet Thursday evening, November 8, for the rushees of their sorority. About 60 guests were greeted in a toast by the club president, Miss Ruth Jenkins, to which Miss Anna Pitt Davenport responded, and from the brother fraternity by Carol Goodwin.

The banquet carried out the old colonial decorations and entertainments. A chain of boxwood down the center of the table, forming a background for negro mammy dolls carried out the color scheme of green and white. Candle light was used exclusively for colonial effect. Entertainment was provided by the Harmony Boys of the college in negro costume. A typical negro sermon was preached by Mr. Watkins and an acrobatic dance by little Jackie Harkins. A three-course dinner consisting of tomato juice cocktail, chicken, rice and gravy, candied yams, garden peas and a dessert of ice cream and cake was served.

Discussion Club

The Discussions Club held its bi-weekly meeting Tuesday Nov. 13, with Newby Crowell acting as chairman. The topic discussed at this meeting was Hitler versus Mussolini. The topic was fully discussed from all viewpoints and many interesting sidelights on the two great dictators were brought out. Some of these were: Hitler's persecution of the Jews and his reason behind this; Mussolini's plan for training the young child to bear arms; Mussolini's plan for making Italy a world power; the imitation of Mussolini by Hitler; and the possibility of a war to rise from Germany arming herself. The topic for the next meeting is "The Race Problem in America" with Milton Whitfield as chairman.

Alumni Notes

Winfred Shaw and his mother, of Broadway spent last week end with "Red" Shaw.

Sammie Paul, '33, is now coaching the Methodist Orphanage football team.

Helen Chandler, '33, now a student at Duke University, visited her sister, Lucille, over the week-end.

Miss Alma Bizzell, former Registrar and Math teacher at Louisburg College spent Friday night with friends here. Miss Bizzell is now located at Ahoskie.

(Continued on page three)

Weldon Kicks Winning Point

Greenville, Nov. 12.—The Louisburg College Trojans today defeated the East Carolina Teachers College football team by the score of 7 to 6. Coach Suttentfield started his entire second-string team and allowed them to play the entire period during which time they held the Teachers offense well in check, giving up only one first down. At the opening of the second period the Trojan first team took the field and begun an attack that was soon to result in a touchdown. The Trojans started the touchdown drive late in the second period. Weldon and Davis led in a ground attack that carried the pigskin from their own 30-yard marker to the Teachers' 32. Weldon then tossed a pass to Richards who in turn kicked it back to Boland, who then journeyed 30 yards to the two-yard stripe. Here a five-yard penalty was imposed for too much time out and with the ball resting on the seven-yard marker, Gibson tried the line for no gain. Weldon then threw a pass to McFaygen for a touchdown. Score: Trojans 6, Teachers 0. Weldon then dropped back into kick formation and lifted the ball thru the crossbars for the point that later proved to be the winning point of the game. Score: Louisburg 7, Teachers 0. The Teachers' score came towards the middle of Trojans' 45-yard stripe. A pass, Ferebee to L. Ridenhour, gained 20 (Continued on page three)

Adam and Eve To Be Presented

The play, "Adam and Eve", under the direction of Miss Virginia Peyatt will be presented by the College Players, in the Old Opera House, on Friday evening November 23.

The following students compose the cast: Louise Brown, as the likeable and attractive niece of Mr. Armstrong; Fred Hoyle, a very much of a business man, will be cast as Mr. Armstrong. The part of Adam Mason, the vagabond author is being taken by Buck Holdner; Mrs. Armstrong, a lady with rather overbearing manners, is played by Agneen Tharington; the part of the happy-go-lucky son is taken care of by Bob Edwards; Ruth Armstrong, the rather spoiled and head strong daughter of the Armstrong's is being portrayed by Nell Davis; the part of Nelson, the very attractive and efficient secretary of Mr. Armstrong is taken by Wilimena Smith. Lucille Johnson is being cast as the maid in the Armstrong household.

The Play will begin at 8:15 next Friday night and Miss Peyatt has urged that the entire student body be present, because the play is sure to be a winner.