

THE WHISPERING OAK

Published Weekly by the Students of
Louisburg College

EDITORIAL STAFF

E. Harrison----Editor-in-Chief
R. Bartholomew--Associate Editor
Cliff Morris----School Editor
Borden McClees----Make-Up Editor
Juanita Hurley----Society Editor
Matt McDade-----News Editor
Henry Murden-----Exchange Editor
Ruby G. Massenburg---Alumni Editor
Clyde Stallings---Feature Editor
Richard Auger-----Sports Editor

BUSINESS STAFF

Woodrow McNeil---Business Manager
Pete Page-----Asst. Business Mgr.
Henry Smith----Circulation Mgr.
Bill Mann-----Asst. Circulation

REPORTORIAL STAFF

Alice Cahill           Marjorie Spivey
Lil Cope               Kat Winborne
Harold Morris       Bobby Waters
                          Sidney Roper

FACULTY ADVISERS

Mr. Taff               Miss Peyatt

*****

The Staff extends its sympathy to Mr. Taff who is ill with a sinus and throat infection. This week Mr. Taff has under gone treatment at McPherson's Hospital, Durham. We are glad to know that he is improving and we hope that he will soon be well.

*****

VOTING

In every form of democratic government it is the privilege and duty of every person to go to the polls on election day and cast his vote for his candidate. Our form of government here at Louisburg College is a democratic form of government, and every student should vote in the election. If only a few are eligible to vote, the student body is not fully represented; nor is the will of a few that of the majority.

In the election for student body officers only about half of the students voted. Does this mean that the other half is willing to let a minority rule! Does this mean that the other half is either too lazy or too uninterested to take part in our election? If this is true it certainly shows that we do not have the proper spirit about our elections.

Why not train your minds now for the task you will be expected to perform later in life? Start now to think in terms of a candidate's eligibility for an office. Carefully scrutinize his favorable qualities and balance these against his undesirable ones, and then go to the polls and vote accordingly.

*****

When you get a funny feeling
Where your heart's supposed to be,
Do you blame it on the snack you
ate
About half-past three?

Do you get a strange wild notion
When she comes into the room
That you wish the earth would swallow you,
And then, complete your doom?

Then worst of all you cease to eat
This verdict's very sad
It's not just a mild case of love
My lad, you've got it bad.
Juliette Hickman

*****

That time of year has come again when a "young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love." One might add, "not only a young man's". Judging from the hurried, worried way in which some of the courting couples circle the campus, they are afraid they can't get enough pacing done in the forty-five minutes allowed them. It would certainly be a fortunate thing for them if the administration were to suddenly give back to them the half-hour before supper, then maybe they would get enough pacing done in one day.