SUPERLATIVES CHOSEN FOR YEAR'S BOOK

Superlatives of the senior, or second year class were chosen last week. Milton Butler was selected as the best-looking and Juanita Hurley was chosen as the best-looking girl. The two most popular were Willis Marshall and Savonne Matthews. Frances Brown was elected the best all-round student.

The election preliminary was held Monday by a procedure new to most voters. The voters merely placed their choice beside the office to be filled. Wednesday when the final was held, the three highest candidates for each place were posted and the election was held from them. The election was under the direction of the annual staff.

GLEE CLUB SINGS AT SILER CITY

On Sunday March 3, the A Cappella Choir sang in the First Methodist Church in Siler City at the regular Sunday Morning Church hour.

The students were entertained in the various homes of the members of the church for dinner. At three o'clock they sang for the Union League meeting being held there.

Immediately following the concert the choir left for Apex where they were served supper in the church before giving their last concert of the day.

These three concerts are among the best that have been given by the choir this year.

Their next trip will be to Raleigh when they will make their second broadcast, Sunday evening, March 10, at 9:05 over

STALLINGS PRESENTS FACULTY AS STUDENTS SEE THEM

The annual Faculty Take-off was held last Wednesday night in the auditorium, and it was a tremendous success. The audience was spellbound by the clever imitations of our faculty members by students, and fits of laughter kept the students holding their sides throughout the entire performance. The curtain was a little late, but this did not dampen the enthusiasm of the audience for the fine performance.

The play opened with a scene at Louisburg College two years hence. The College has been turned into an institution for the feeble-minded and for the poor. The former students of Louisburg College have gone to Finland to fight, and the faculty of Louisburg College is left behind without any jobs. Dr. Walter Patten has given the members of the faculty who have not lost their minds busy work to do, and the other faculty members are being taken care of by the Louisburg Institute for the feeble-minded.

The script was written by Clyde Stallings and we take off our hats to him to acknowledge a good job well done. Clyde was assisted in the make-up department by Martha Blanche Rice and Thelma Joyner, and they turned out decoys like the real McCoy. Martha Blanche also helped the students with their imitations in speech and actions of our faculty, our President and his wife, Mrs. Culpepper, Miss Dayton, and May Bell.

The cast is as follows: Dr. Patten, Harold Morris; Mrs. Patten, Marjorie Spivey; Dr. Amick, Lee Wood Vinson; Mr. Kilby, Reid Overman; Mrs. Kilby, Ercell Adams; Mr. Moon, Sam Arrington;
