The students wish to make the following suggestions to:

The Publicity Committee: There is a college news program over station WRAL every Sunday afternoon. Why not have Louisburg College news on this program? The station invites contributions from all colleges, and this would be good publicity for Louisburg College.

The Publication Committee: We were informed that our annuals would cost three dollars if all students bought them. All students have bought them, yet the cost is running as high as six dollars in some cases. We do not consider this a sound policy.

The Committee on Campus Improvements: Neat, white octogan shaped benches could be constructed around some of the larger oaks on the front campus, and they would greatly appreciate this gift and it would improve the appearance of the campus. The assets of this project would offset what small expense that it would involve.

The Social Committee: Why not have the Homecoming Dance in the dining hall instead of the Social Hall? Under even ordinary circumstances, the social hall is entirely too crowded for dancing and it will be even worse if the May Day Dance is held here.

James L. Gossard, deceased brother of Billy Gossard, wrote many poems prior to his death in 1935 at the age of 15. For the next last issues The Whispering Oak will publish some of these poems of varied thought and mood.

"The rain is raining all around.
It rains on land and sea,
But the only rain that I'm worrying about,
Is the rain that rains on me."

The following is an idea of what each form of government in the world stands for:

Socialism: If you have two cows, you give one to your neighbor.

Communism: If you have two cows, you give one to the Government, and the Government gives you the milk.

Facism: If you have two cows, you keep the cows and give the milk to the Government, and the Government sells you the milk.

New Dealism: If you have two cows, you shoot one, milk the other, and then pour the milk down the drain.

Nazism: If you have two cows, the Government shoots you and keeps the cows.

Capitalism: If you have two cows, you sell one and buy a bull.

We're mighty thankful to Mr. Patrick for fixing the fountain. It tastes plenty good. Let's try to keep it cut off as the notice asks.
