JUNE TEW IS ELECTED MAY QUEEN

DR. BROOKS WAGGONER

Waggoner Tells Ed. Philosophy In Interview

"Get your preparation as early as possible and as continuously as possible" is the advice given by Dr. Brooks Waggoner to students who someday aspire for a doctorate. "If a fellow wants to get anywhere, his chances are in direct relation to his preparation."

Dr. Waggoner revealed part of his philosophy of education in a recent interview concerning his receiving his Ph. D. on June 2.

Continuing his advice, Dr. Waggoner stated, "More and more graduate degrees are either a requirement or a great help in securing the better positions in any field—industry—certainly teaching. I think each individual should decide early how far he is going to go and get there quick."

When asked if he thought that his degree would be worth the time and effort that he gave, Dr. Waggoner replied thoughtfully, "Now I do. During the last year"

Louisburg Expects $500,000 from UCA

Because of the favorable action on the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Church at its recent special meeting in Raleigh, Louisburg College is expected to receive the sum of $500,000 from North Carolina Methodists.

The United College Appeal, better known as the UCA, is a campaign to raise needed funds for Louisburg College, Brevard College, Greensboro College, and High Point College. The appeal started in early 1951 in the Western Conference, but, until the approval of the campaign by the North Carolina Conference, Louisburg did not share in the action. As the result of this approval, Louisburg will receive funds from all of North Carolina, and funds should start coming in soon.

Changes Printer

Place of publications for the Columns has been changed from Jones Printing Company in Warrenton to Theo Davis Sons, Printers, in Zebulon. The change resulted from attractive low rates and fast service offered by the Zebulon company.

WSSF Explained By J. C. Gleason

States Need of Funds; Swiss Student Here

"Mutual assistance and human encounter will help break through the isolating barriers of cultural and political difference, and a deeper understanding and wider sense of responsibility will be the outcome of such relationships," promised Mr. John C. Gleason, a WSSF representative, who visited Louisburg College campus on Tuesday, March 3.

The World Student Service Fund, explained Mr. Gleason, was created by students and teachers to assist institutions in parts of the world where the help was needed. Now, many student organizations, Protestant churches, Catholics, and Jews are sponsoring the World University Service which is represented in the United States WSSF. College students and faculty members are the only source of funds for the WSSF, which, through wide campus contacts is bringing to American students an understanding and realization of the plight of people who are getting an education in spite of hunger, illness, terrible living and clothing conditions, and minimum equipment.

WSSF Categories

WSSF's overseas main categories of aid are: medical aid; maintenance of rest centers for physical-

Over one-half of the goal for the Western Conference has been realized, and the campaign in that area will be completed around the latter part of the present year. The campaign in the North Carolina Conference will start late in 1952 and will be carried forward, district by district, until the entire area has been covered. It is hoped that the entire campaign will be completed sometime in 1953.

A number of improvements are planned for Louisburg College. Among these are: reconditioning the dormitories, new furniture for the dormitory rooms, a central heating plant, a new dining hall, and, if funds available permit, a combined Religious Education and Music Building.

Beta Phi Gamma Admits Members

Beta Phi Gamma, national journalism fraternity, admitted seven new members during the annual tapping which was held in the Louisburg College Auditorium on February 22, 1952. These new members were admitted because of the outstanding work done in journalism and work done on the college newspaper or yearbook. To have been eligible, the student must have attained an average of "c" or higher on all subjects taken at Louisburg College.

New members are as follows: Marvin Jordan; Margaret Lee; Phyllis Bailey; Bill Brogden; Charles Creekmore; Harvey Johnson; and Willis Goodrum.

Tapping was done by old members who are as follows: Phil Johnson, president; Sidney Epperon, vice-president; Thelbert Whitt, secretary; and Jimmy Willis, treasurer.

Journalism class is instructed by Mrs. Juanita S. Clarke. Miss Ruth Merritt is the faculty advisor for Beta Phi Gamma.

National headquarters for Beta Phi are located in Glendale, California. New members are admitted twice a year.

L. C. Team Wins Trophy

Team Captures Third Place in State Tournament

In the North Carolina Junior College Conference basketball tournament, which was played in Shelby, on February 28, 29, and March 1, the Louisburg Wildcats won the consolation championship.

In the first round of play, the locals trounced the Belmont Abbey squad by a 60-53 score and earned the right to remain in the tournament. The Yorkmen took an early lead and clung to it until late in the third period when the Belmont Abbey five took over the lead. However, the Wildcats bounced back in the final stanza to outscore the losers by 12-3. The Louisburg cause was aided by the fouling out of four Belmont Abbey players. Roy Lee Earp and Glendel Stephenson had 22 and 20 points, respectively, to pace the Wildcat scoring attack.

Locals Not Lucky

The locals were not so lucky the second night as a strong Wingate quintet trounced them 88-67. The winners had no trouble at all in capturing the victory. They tore the Louisburg defense wide open in the first quarter by running up an 18 point lead. Although the remainder of the game was played on almost even terms, the losers were too far behind to cause Wingate any real trouble. Darrell Floyd, Wingate's ace forward, was the big point getter of the night as he bombarded the nets for 28 points. Glendel Stephenson collected 20 points to top the Louisburg cage totals.

The following night, Louisburg got back into the win column by downing the Gardner-Webb five by a 71-69 score. The game was a nip-and-tuck affair all the way, although the winners managed to keep the lead most of the night.

Facilities Inspected To Determine Merits Toward Accrediting

Representatives of the Southern Association of Universities and Colleges visited Louisburg College March 20-21. The representatives were Dr. Irvine S. Ingram, chairman of the undergraduate department at the University of Florida, Gainesville, Florida.

The purpose of the visit was to inspect the buildings, faculty, classrooms, students and financial standing of the college to see if the college could meet the requirements for accrediting.

The report of the representatives will be made to the association in December.
