Inauguration of Doctor Robbins To Take Place on November 12

GRACE KENNEDY IS ELECTED FBLA PRESIDENT

The members of the Future Business Leaders of America elected Grace Kennedy of Gold Sand, N. C., as their president for the current year in a meeting on the evening of October 11, in the college auditorium. Miss Kennedy succeeds Bill Faucette, of Fayetteville, who is now completing his college degree at the University of North Carolina.

Other officers elected were vice-president, Jean Baker, Princeton, N. C.; secretary, Ann Leonard, Palmer Springs, Va.; treasurer, Buck Frazier, Spring Hope, N. C.; reporter, Richard Bennett, Durham, N. C.; and program chairman, Frances Bates, Kinston, N. C.

Ann Smith, temporary chairman, who was in charge of the introduction of FBLA's first business meeting, was assisted by Anne Edens, of Laurel Hill, and Jean Baker. Miss Smith was delegate last year from the local chapter to the FBLA conference held in Winston-Salem, N. C.

After the introduction, the meeting proper was begun with the reading of the minutes by Miss Kennedy. The educational phase of the meeting was highlighted by the presentation of the FBLA scrapbook, containing a pictorial history of the Louisburg Chapter since the club's charter was granted in the spring of 1955, and by a talk in which Miss Adelaide Johnson, sponsor of the local chapter, gave a brief resume of the history and goals of the FBLA organization. Miss Johnson emphasized in discussing the goals of FBLA the idea "creative thinking" on the part of the members of the FBLA chapter at Louisburg College.

The Louisburg College FBLA Chapter is now one of the 41 chapters in North Carolina and is one of the 1,425 chapters in the United States, District of Columbia, Hawaii, and Cuba.

ART CLASS

Art education has been added to the college curriculum and is being taught by Mrs. R. A. Kornegay. The class has eight members, who are better known as the "starving artists." They have been seen on the back campus doing their interpretation of Davis building. The class has turned out some excellent work in pastel and charcoal under the instruction of Mrs. Kornegay.

A course in art Education is required for a major in primary education. The course teaches the student to understand what art is and teaches them many ideas to use in the classroom.

A course in drawing will be offered next semester, and Mrs. Kornegay hopes that a large number of students will take advantage of the opportunities of these art courses.

The inauguration of Dr. Cecil W. Robbins as President of Louisburg College will take place Monday, November 12, at 2 p.m. Dr. James E. Hillman, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, will preside at the inauguration service. Bishop Paul N. Garber of Richmond, Virginia, will be the guest speaker. Representatives of the Methodist colleges, the church-related colleges, the state supported colleges, and the junior colleges of North Carolina will present messages of greeting. Also bringing greetings will be the faculty, the student body, the alumni, and the community of Louisburg and Franklin County.

The ceremony will be held in the W. R. Mills High School Auditorium. Registration of delegates will be held from 1:00 to 1:45 p.m. in the Social Hall of the Administration Building. The procession will form at 1:45 at the steps of the Administration Building, followed by the ceremony at 2:00. A reception will round out the program at 4:00 in the Social Hall.

Dean John B. York is chairman of the Inauguration Committee, which is composed of the following: Dr. James E. Hillman, Dr. Herbert J. Herring, Mrs. J. H. Cutchin, and Judge Hamilton Hobgood, from the Board of Trustees; Miss Ruth Merritt, Miss Sarah Foster, Mrs. Genevieve Perry, C. Ray Pruette, and I. D. Moon, from the faculty; Ann Smith and Floyd Ammons, from the student body; and W. F. Shelton and Mrs. Gordon Zealand, from the alumni association.

339 STUDENTS ARE ENROLLED FOR NEW TERM

Enrollment figures just released show that a total of 339 students have registered for the 1956-57 college session. Of this number, 118 are enrolled in the second-year class. There are 271 students living on campus and 68 who are commuting for their class work. Fifty of the students are Franklin County residents. Students at Louisburg this year represent 126 different high schools throughout North Carolina and 14 high schools from other states. There are four foreign students, two from Iran, one from Hawaii, and one from Korea.

Twenty ministers are taking college work at Louisburg for the current session. Eight different religious denominations are represented by students on the campus, 171 being Methodist.

Not included in the above enrollment figure are 21 people of the community registered for a special night course in New Testament History. Several are taking music who are not classified as college students.

Average production of milk per cow has increased about 1,000 pounds during the last 10 years.

Louisburg, WCUNC, PJC Go Democratic in Poll

BY BILL BONDURANT

Feature Editor, the Davidsonian

Ten thousand college students in the Carolinas and Virginia favor Eisenhower over Stevenson by two-to-one.

In a poll conducted by 26 college and university newspapers of the three states, the students endorsed the Republican ticket with 59.8 per cent of the total vote. The Democrats trailed with 35.9 per cent.

Results of the poll were announced today by Jim Batten, editor of the Davidson College Davidsonian, which coordinated the three-state survey.

The States Rights Party polled 2.2% of the vote, the Independent ticket, 1.4%, and other candidates received .5% of the total vote.

North Carolina, usually Democratic, turned to the Eisenhower-Nixon team by 58.5% of the state's popular vote on the collegiate level.

Three N. C. colleges maintained the traditional Democrat majority: Louisburg College, Woman's College of the University of North Carolina, and Presbyterian Junior College. The Independent and States Rights tickets together with all individual candidates polled 1.1% of the total North Carolina vote.

The Republicans led in Virginia with the 66.4% of the vote. The Democrats were lower than in either of the two other states. The States Rights element was stronger in Virginia than the combined States Rights, Independent and individual candidates votes in North and South Carolina.

In South Carolina the Republican Party edged out ahead with 50.8% of the state's vote. South Carolina submitted the highest number of Independent votes and no states

FIVE DELEGATES FROM L.C. ATTEND YDC CONVENTION

Five delegates from Louisburg College attended the State Y. D. C. Convention held in Winston-Salem, N. C., at the Robert E. Lee Hotel on October 5-6, 1956. They were Noah Sadler, Wilson Woodhouse, Bob Berry, Royce Byrd, and Gerald Brooks.

The convention was attended by Young Democrats from each district of North Carolina.

The convention was considered one of the most important of its kind for two reasons: first was its principal speaker, Senator Jack Kennedy, of Mass., a candidate for the Vice-Presidential nominee at the National Democratic Convention held last August in Chicago; second was the terrific battles that were held on the convention floor for different state officers of the Y. D. C.

In his speech, Senator Kennedy elaborated on the mistakes made by the Republican Party during the present administration. He dwelt upon the blunders in our foreign policies that have been made by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and others and stated that if Mr. Stevenson and Mr. Kefauver were elected they would work to correct these mistakes.

The battles that were held on the convention floor were highlighted by the contest for North Carolina Young Democratic National Committeeman. In this election Louisburg College and Franklin County delegates played more than an active part. Two men were in the running for this office, both of equal caliber and ability. On the first ballot both Louisburg College and Franklin County passed. At the end of the roll call it was found that Bill Smith of _____ was four votes ahead of Bill Woods of _____.

There was a recall of _____ (Continued on Page 6)

FOREIGN STUDENTS ENROLLED AT LC

This year, as in the past, Louisburg College is again the home of students from all parts of the world. During the current school year, four foreign students are enrolled. One is from Hawaii; one comes from Korea; and two are natives of Iran. Young Ba Kim is from Seoul, Korea. He prefers that people call him "Kim." He has been in America since February 27 of this year and likes it very much.

Kim came to Louisburg because he read about it in a college catalogue found in the United States Information Service. He is majoring in political Science.

He likes sports and his favorite is basketball.

His father is a lawyer in Korea and Kim is the only one in his family to ever come to America.

When asked what he thought of the American girls, he said he liked them very much. He also said he liked American movies because many of them are shown in Korea.

Wyntus Keipshi Marizawa is from Hawaii. His home town is Kahuku on the Island of Oahu. He graduated from High School in June of 1955 and came to the States in July of the same year. When he first came here he worked at Cherry Point, where his stepfather and mother live now.

After he left Cherry Point he attended Springfield College in Springfield, Mass. Last summer he worked at a YMCA Camp in Vermont.
