A recent improvement at Louisburg College is the walkway between Trinity Dormitory and Franklin Building. A project of the Men's Student Government, the cement for the walk was purchased at Pruitt's Lumber Company and the work was supervised by Lee Roy Durden.

During the Spring semester, the YMCA-YWCA of Louisburg College will present several academy award motion pictures for the enjoyment of its students. All "Y" members showing membership cards will only be charged half-price. Among the movies to be presented will be:

April 13—"Eddie Duchin Story," starring Tyrone Power and Kim Novak.

May 8—"Song Without End," the life story of Franz Liszt, with Dick Bogarde and Capucine.

Weeks of debates and consultations between the world powers resulted in the U. N. Security Council decision to authorize Secretary-General Thant to appoint a mediator and peace keeping force in Cyprus (for three months) to achieve settlement of the differences between the Greek-Turkish Cypriots.

Now the Secretary-General has to face the selection of the mediator and a voluntary peace-keeping force. On the assumption that this will be achieved, the Secretary-General would have to extend the period assigned the police force at the end of the allotted three months, since the chances for reaching a satisfactory settlement to the dispute within this period is doubted. Besides the financial difficulties, such an extension would face Soviet, Czechoslovak, and French objections, which would determine the reopening of debates again.

President Johnson held a press conference recently in which he touched lightly on some of the foreign issues confronting the United States now. According to his views at this conference, Vietnam is left to McNamara's investigation team and the agreement reached in Cyprus was encouraging; however the President's briefing echoed differently from political commentaries—it has been seen as a distinction between President Johnson and the late President Kennedy that Johnson is on a larger scale relying on Congress and aides. Second Faculty Series Program

On Wednesday, March 18, 1964, the YMCA-YWCA of Louisburg College sponsored their second Distinguished Faculty Series program. Dr. Bernard Boyd, a member of the department of religion at the University of North Carolina, brought an inspirational message to our campus. Since 1950 Dr. Boyd has held the James A. Gray professorship of Biblical Literature at the University. In 1952 he became the chairman of the department of religion and occupied that position until 1960.

Dr. Boyd holds degrees from the following colleges: Presbyterian College (A.B.), Princeton Theological Seminary (Th.B.), Princeton University (M.A.), Union Theological Seminary (Th.D.). He served as a Chaplain with the Marine Corp in the Pacific area during World War II, and he was awarded the Purple Heart on Okinawa.

At the University of North Carolina, Dr. Boyd has inspired and stimulated thousands of students with his scintillating classroom technique. In 1958 he received the Tanner Award for excellence in college teaching. "Biblical Masterpieces," his popular television program, is currently being distributed by the National Educational Television Association. In the summer and fall of 1963, Dr. Boyd participated in an archaeological exploration of Palestine.

Student Body Favors Merger

On February 25, 1964, the Louisburg College student body voted 371 to 30 in favor of combining the men's and women's student governments into one student government association.

At the first meeting this year of the Men's Student Government, Bill Mowbray, president, mentioned the idea and asked the members to consider it. The council discussed the idea with various students, and the general opinion was favorable as was exemplified in the voting.

The men's government invited the women's government to meet with them on February 20, 1964, to discuss this merger. The members agreed wholeheartedly. Most of the administration and faculty expressed their approval.
