HOMECOMING '69

COLUMNS

Vol. XXIX No. 4 LOUISBURG COLLEGE LOUISBURG, N. C.

lomecoming '69 promises to be one of the most exciting we kends at Louisburg College in ecent months. The events will be kicked off tonight with Ginger Thompson and the Music Odyssey starting Clifford Curry.

Curry.

Included in tomorrow's events is a Hell between the basketball teams of Louisburg College and Southwood College in Flotton Gymnasium. Half time activities will feature the selection of the HHomecoming Queen and the presentation of her court. Josh White It. will highlight the agenda with a concept in the College Auditorium. (For a list of the cheduled events refer to page Three.)

For a really exciting and enjoyable weekend attend all of these events. Heed this bit of warning, though, Those of you who have bearts and are heart-attack prone, think twice before attending the Saturday night baskethall game. It will be exciting!
