Dr. Willard

Dr. Willard Joins History Department

Louisburg College would like to extend a warm welcome to Dr. George A. Willard, a new addition to the faculty and history department. Dr. Willard received her A.B. degree at Atlantic Christian College, her M.A. degree at ECU, and her Ph.D. degree at UNC at Chapel Hill. After teaching at Georgia State University, Dr. Willard says she appreciates the atmosphere of a small school. She hopes to help the students at LC to learn not only historical facts but skills that will help produce a successful adult life. In Dr. Willard's opinion, through studying history students will develop a better understanding of themselves as well as their environment. Dr. Willard has recently made her home in Louisburg and has hopes of publishing a book on North Carolina education.

Thanks To The Alumni Association

The COLUMNS staff would like to thank the Alumni Association for allowing us to print several of their articles. Those articles being: Enrollment Profile Coast to Coast, Summer Activities of the Faculty and Staff, and Field Named in Honor of Coach.

Members Needed As Young Democrats Re-Organize

Young Democrats Club of Louisburg College is being re-organized after being lifeless for several years. The club in 1957, a year after its organization, had 90 members, this was over 28% of the college's total enrollment. There are at present 17 members in the YDC. Mr. Steven E. Brooks, Director of Admissions and faculty advisor for the club, stated, "The club needs more active members in order for it to be a success."

The officers of the club are as follows, Charlie Lewis, President, Steve Darnell, Vice President, and Vivian Overton, Treasurer and Secretary.

The main objective of the club is to promote student interest in political affairs. The organization is presently discussing the amendments to be voted on November 8, presenting political figures for lecture and discussion sessions and various money raising projects.

Release Yourself

In this day and age of specialization, a one time training is not sufficient. Also with more leisure time the public looks for new ways to occupy this time. Louisburg College is attempting to meet the demands with the Continuing Education Program. The College Reading and Study Skills was sponsored by Continuing Education during the summer, and was so successful it is still continuing. Other summer courses included folklore for English teachers and volleyball coaching for high school students. The Beginning Guitar course has enrolled many enthusiastic participants. "The Revelation" being taught by Rev. Stafford is now in process. Although some programs like Dr. Hubert N. Alyea's Overhead Projection Series are credit for a teacher's renewal certificate, all programs are usually open to the public. Continuing Education has already begun planning the spring activities such as a needlepoint class, an automobile trouble workshop, and a landscape program. So release yourself in an opportunity provided by Continuing Education.

Tommy Yow Joins College Staff

Around the campus this fall there have been a lot of new faces. Many faces have been students, but quite a few have been faculty and staff. Among the new faces on staff is Thomas S. Yow, III.

Mr. Yow is a native of Raleigh. He has a B.A. from Methodist College and a M.Div. from Duke University.

In an interview, Mr. Yow revealed he has always been a fan of Louisburg College. He stated, "I have always been impressed with the products LC has turned out. This was one thing that helped influence my decision to come to Louisburg."

Mr. Yow's position is entitled Administrative Assistant to the President. His job includes working closely with the churches related with the college, and working with the President.

Mr. Yow is married, and has two children. He is residing on North Main in Louisburg.

Many Parents Visit Louisburg College Campus

Where were your parents October 22, 1977? In all probability they were at Louisburg College attending the annual Parent's Day. Quite a number of Parents showed up for a day full of activities.

The parents arrived on campus between 9:30 and 11:00 Saturday morning. After registering, the parents attended a program designed just for them. Dean Edward Brown, the speaker, chose the topic of "Student Success." He proceeded to explain the role of the student, the parent, and Louisburg College in helping each student find his place in life. He also pointed out that Louisburg College is concerned with helping make the student a "well-rounded" person, as well as helping make his successful academically. After Dean Brown's address, the Louisburg Ensemble welcomed the parents by singing.

The parents were shown to the Duke Cafeteria where they enjoyed a delicious lunch. The afternoon was left vacant to give the parents a chance to talk with faculty and administration members.

Parents' Day has been quite a festive occasion for the past few years, and this year was no exception.

Doughnut Sale Helps Buy TV For Hillman Dorm

Hillman Dorm sponsored a dough-nut sale on campus a while back and it was a huge success thanks to those who bought our dough-nuts. The money raised is to be used for a television for Hillman Dorm lounge so that we like others might be able to entertain you students living in other dorms sometime in the near future. Thanks a bunch all people who supported our effort in anyway. Also I would like to say a harty thanks to the following co-workers and dorm-mates for making this project work: Brad Williams, Mike Edmonds, Tom Alligood, George Shaw, Bobby Whitaker, Tim Sikes, and Bob Johnson. Thanks guys for your unselfish support!
