

COLUMNS

Vol. XXIX No. 6

Louisburg, North Carolina 27549

April, 1983

→ Awards day brings year to a close ←

The annual Louisburg College Awards day was held in the AC Auditorium on April 26 at 11:00. Dr. C. Edward Brown, Dean of Academic Affairs, presided. After prayer offered by Chaplain Sidney Stafford and a few remarks by Dean Brown, the recognition of students began.

Wanda Girton, Arthur Griffin, Celeste Hughes, Carla Joyner, Lisa Martin, Mayumi Ohmi, Robin Pridgen and Tammy Snyder were recognized as the 1982-83 Marshals.

The Hardee Scholarship Award in Art was given to Mr. Henry Goodson. Athletic Awards were presented to Mr. Henry Harris and Ms. Annette Phillips. The P.A. Carlton Award for Biology was received by Mr. David Scott Pearce. The Owen Stephen Barnnell Associate of Science Award was presented to Mr. Joseph Winslow.

Ms. Rebecca Drake Joyner received the Alpha Phi Epsilon Award in Business. The Chemical Rubber Company Award for Chemistry was presented to Mr. Eric Gray. Mr. Steve Cosby was the recipient of the Cortland V. Smith Award for outstanding achievement.

The Dorothy S. Sampson Creative Writing Award was presented to Ms. Nancy Middleton. Foreign Language awards were received by the following: Randy Brantley, (Spanish); Tammy Snyder, (French); and Mary Susan Myers, (Ann Blumenfeld Scholarship Award). Mr. Dow Carter was recognized for his work in intramurals.

The award for excellence of achievement in journalism was presented to Mr. David Read. The Malone Medal was received by Ms. Teresa Evans for excellence of achievement in English. Mr. Louis Timothy Bailey was given the James H. Brown Award for achievement in Math 103 and 104 and Mr. Gregory Norman Choplin received the Elizabeth Johnson award for achievement in Math 201 and 202. Music awards were presented to Ms. Sonia Galloway and Mr. Daniel Moore.

Mr. Kerry Allan Daniel received the Patten Dorm Scholarship. The following student received the Chaplain's Award for service: Ms. Linda O'Leary, Mr. Daniel Moore, Ms. Cheryl Pernell, Mr. Trent Pettus, Mr. Jerome McArthur, Ms. Joy Watkins, Ms. Lisa Distasio, and Ms. Heidi Wilson. Ms. Jennifer Kirschner and Mr. Lee Little were recognized as Outstanding Resident Assistants. Mr. Randy Brantley was presented the Speech Award.

The ceremony was concluded by remarks from Dean Brown and Dr. Pruette.

Dean Brown takes the podium at Awards Day

Where to after Lou-U ?

By KELLI SWINSON

Graduation is May 7th and the tension is building. Graduation candidates are feeling the pressure. Most are thinking about life after Louisburg. After serving their time at Lou-U and surviving, these students are looking into their future and what lies ahead for them at senior college.

Several students were asked where they planned on going next year, what they remember best about Louisburg, and what they plan on majoring in.

Michael Arnold is going to Appalachian and plans to major in archeology. He thinks of Louisburg as being, "... a thing of the past."

Vernon Bagley said, "No comment!" Rumor has it he will terrorize the campus of E.C.U. next year.

Mike Baine is on to bigger and better things at State and later to Atlanta to study art. He's looking forward to working in commercial art.

"When I think of Louisburg College I think of all the good friends I've made..." says Eddie Barnett.

Dow Carter is headed for Appalachian with only one

Graduates Kathleen Barbee, Houston Bagley, Penny Burton, Gary Worley and Abby Dalton hug in anticipation.

Photo by CINDY MEDLEY

regret, "... too bad they didn't offer snow skiing 101 at Louisburg."

Criminal justice major, Angie Floyd commented, "It's been a picnic!" She plans on attending UNC-Chapel Hill next year but will definitely return to see her pals in 215 Kenan.

Is UNC-Charlotte ready for Grey Gruber? He sums up his time at Louisburg as being, "An experience!"

Computer science is Sheryl Cumming's major at ECU next year. She was speechless when asked her fondest memory at Louisburg.

Kim Thompson plans to attend State next year with a major in special education and minor in accounting.

Louisburg will certainly NOT be the same without these students and the others that are leaving us. In the past Louisburg has produced many successful students and hopes to carry on the tradition with the students leaving for senior colleges.

Spring Puts Up Good Fight

Reggie Ponder promises a friend there will be a spring.

Photo by BRIAN KEITH