BSM raises $640, gains 282 members after dance

The Black Student Movement raised $640 and satisfied the Campus Governing Council's $600 membership dues requirement for the 1981-82 year, BSM Chairperson Mark Canady said.

During the spring, the CGC sets a dollar amount of dues the BSM must raise in order to obtain future funds. The organization collected the required $600 and gained 282 members following the semester's first dance, which was sponsored by the BSM membership committee, Canady said at a special BSM meeting Aug. 22.

"In past years, the money raised from membership drives had to go towards the CGC dues category in our budget," Canady said. "Since we satisfied that requirement, we can spend that money on other project."

Smith Turner and Allen Russell, BSM membership chairpersons, said they were pleased with the amount of money raised and with the initial number of members.

"The dance was a success because it was the first one of the semester in Great Hall and many people did not have many things to do on that Thursday night (Aug. 20)," Turner said.

"It was a fair deal when you look at it," Russell said. "The jam was really free because the people paid only for the membership and not the jam."

Turner and Russell said the ultimate goal of their membership committee is to sign up at least 600 students as BSM members this academic year.

In other business, the central committee passed four amendments to the BSM constitution. The constitution will include two aspects about membership — any person participating in a BSM subgroup must be a BSM member, and the membership dues will remain $2 year round.

An amendment also clarified the role of Miss BSM. The amendment states that Miss BSM must have at least a 2.0 grade point average, serve as an ex-officio member of the central committee, coordinate a public service project, and serve as hostess for the BSM.

Sandra Tate, the 1980-81 Miss BSM said this amendment will clear up the vague ideas some students have about the roll of Miss BSM.

The central committee passed an amendment outlining nine rules to the treasury laws for the BSM. In further action, the committee approved an amendment naming the United Christian Fellowship as an official representative at BSM meeting. UCF Chairperson, Jacqueline Overton will serve as UCF representative at BSM meetings.

Canady concluded the meeting by outlining four BSM directives for this school year. "The BSM should have more community involvement, more members and membership involvement, more student awareness on campus, and an increase of community abilities by the BSM."

West becomes coach

UNC has named one of its alumni as the first black coach in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Hubert West a 1973 graduate of UNC, will replace his former coach Joe Hilton, who is retiring after 18 years at the university.

West participated in the long jump, triple jump, and competed as a sprinter as a student at UNC. He was a four year letterman and the 1972 ACC long-jump champion.

He received a master's degree from UNC in 1979, and has been an assistant coach for the past eight years.

Don Lockerbie, a 1979 UNC graduate has been named to assist West. Lockerbie also participated in the track program as an undergraduate. In 1977 he was the ACC 800-meter champion.

West said he would like to "try to have more face-to-face contact with individuals." His objective for the year include expanding the competitive schedule to include different schools and adding extra track meets.

His office will operate under an open-door policy, West said.

He also said that one of his main goals is "for each senior to have a good quality year and to be able to achieve a milestone in their college career."

Both West and Lockerbie will be working on recruiting. West wants to expand the recruiting program to other areas. "We want to let students in other states know about Carolina and we want to establish a base in these areas — especially in the North and Northeastern states," West said.

West said "the door is open for anyone who is interested in track and field. There will be no cuts. Although the travel squad may be limited there is a wide open program. We want anyone who is interested to come by and see us."

Graduation!
