

It's Coming Up

Tuesday, Sept. 29 — African film series, "White Man's Country" at 7:30 p.m. in 101 Greenlaw. Admission is free.

Saturday, Oct. 3 — Law School Admission Test given. Check with the University Counseling Center in Nash Hall at 933-2175.

Monday, Oct. 5 — University Placement Services offers an orientation meeting to provide information on its services at 1:00 p.m. in 108 Hanes. University Counseling Center offers a group program to for personal growth through emotional problem solving and using support from others. Call 962-2175 for information. The counseling center also offers a workshop to reduce anxiety for those uncomfortable with public speaking. Screening interview necessary.

Tuesday, Oct. 6 — African film series, "N'jangaan" at 7:30 p.m. in 101 Greenlaw. Admission is free.

Wednesday, Oct. 7 — Free Flick. "Idi Amin Dada" a film portrait of the former Uganda general. Admission is free with a valid student I.D.

Friday, Oct. 9 — Super Friday. "Breaker Morant" directed by Bruce Berestord. Admission is $1.

Saturday, Oct. 10 — Free Flick. "Sweet Sweetback's Baddassess Song" directed by and starring Melvin Van Peebles. The tale of a black pimp who kills two policemen is one of the strongest protest films ever made.

A long day.

Senior inside linebacker Darrell Nicholson smiles as he is being taken to the field house after slightly injuring his right ankle (not shown) in Sept. 12 game against East Carolina University after their first two contests, the North Carolina outscored their opponents 105 to 7. The most recent victims of the Tar Heels were Miami (Ohio) (49-7) and Boston College (56-14).

Staff Photo.

THE NEW SELECTION OF CAROLINA "T" SHIRTS ARE NOW ON SALE

HURRY TO YOUR STUDENT STORES FOR THE BEST SELECTION OF CAROLINA MEMORABILIA

"ON CAMPUS"

UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA
At Chapel Hill

There's More In Your
STUDENT STORES
Textbook Department Second Floor

