

WHAT'S INSIDE

- A Visit From Randall Robinson 3
The controversial author of "The Debt: What America Owes to Blacks" speaks to the campus about segregation, black history and "the debt."
- Have We Lost Sight of the Struggle? 4
- Watch Out Now! 5
Many of us do not utilize the resources on this campus that are there to keep us safe, nor do we think about actions that will put us in compromising situations. Maybe we should.
- All The Way 6
Though the "top spot" has recently slipped through the fingers of Carolina's men's basketball team, but it's obvious that Matt Doherty and the boys have a lot of potential to reclaim that coveted top spot.
- The Stuff on Our Heads 7
The stuff on our heads is one of the many things that makes us different.
- Why Do We Need a Black Press? 8
- Something in Common 9
Jesse Jackson joins the illustrious company of Bill Clinton, Irvin "Magic" Johnson and Bill Cosby in the annals of infidelity.
- C.R.E.A.M. 10
Never underestimate the power of a dollar. The Black Ink gives you some tips on how to invest your money and maximize its power to the fullest.
- Face Off: Affirmative Action 11
Two Black Ink writers go head to head on the controversial topic of affirmative action.
- The "Great" Disappearance 13
Remember a time when everyone was hype to go to a Great Hall party? The freshmen don't. What's up with the "great disappearance" of Great Hall partygoers.
- Construction Woes 15
This is definitely the year of the bulldozer for UNC students, but South Campus residents seem to have more construction woes than anyone. Hear representatives from all four South Campus dorms unload their construction woes and determine which dorm has it the worst.
- From Taboo to Trend: Interracial Dating 19
- According to the Freshmen 20
Why don't we think that not accepting interracial dating is another form of racism?
- Staff Picks 21
This month the category is: favorite Black Ink writer.
- 22nd Page 22
The Black Ink counts down the top 10 do's and don'ts for a slammin' spring break. Be sure to take notes!
- Reviews 23
The Black Ink recommends three books students can use to break the textbook monotony and also reviews the Oscar-nominated movie, "Traffic."
- Racism, Sexism and The Black Woman 26
- Fashionably Yard 29
This month Kelly asks the question: "Who do you think you're foolin'?" and tells students how to represent on Spring Break.
- Everybody Clap Your Hands! 30
A critical analysis of the latest craze to infiltrate the dance floor, the "Cha Cha Slide."