I. R. C.

Well, father time has added another year to his stack and G. W. C. has begun another session. We all agree that G. W. C. is a wonderful place and it is the organization that make it so. We think the Literary Societies and the glee club are the life of the Campus and we rate the I. R. C. right up in front with them.

Perhaps you Freshmen don't know just what the letters I. R. C. stand for; if you don't I'm thinking it will be to your advantage to find out. As Miss Outhbertson would say, "Know a great deal about everything," and I believe I. R. C. comes under everything.

The I. R. C. meets every other Thursday night at 7:30 in the college social hall. We hear and see much during the hour that is both practical and educational. Different members of the history classes give book reviews on various I. R. C. books checked from the library. By the way, any person who reviews a book will get 2 points added to his final history grade, and anyone can use an extra point or two. The I. R. C. gives us practice in public speaking and teaches us to read something a little deeper than Donald Duck! The I. R. C. also makes for better relations between nations by giving to each nation books on the habits, customs, education & even thoughts of the other. The I. R. C. offers training in the holding of offices which all of us can profit by. When we attend the I. R. C., even though we don't have a part on the program we can get the jest of each book that is reviewed. Jokes and fun are also an essential part of the ciroulum.

Oh yes, I have neglected to mention the fact that Miss Jennie Smith, the history teacher, is the very able advisor for the I. R. C.

The I. R. C. also helps us to grow socially. Not many of us want to add weight to our figurers but all of us want to add to our personalities the things that link us to friends for life. We can get some of this by attending I. R. C.
