

DID YOU KNOW THAT . . .

Nancy Trout has invested in the Cliffside corporation, her interest is none other than Glenn Parris, a blue eyed angel—yes, angel!

The girls on third floor just love finding ghosts on the fire escape!

Marjorie Hoyle has charged of Bob Beason—my, he gets around to them all.

Another sailor of Lucille Cash's company is home.

Pat Summer looks so romantic sitting under the trees on the campus with?

Dot Franklin—my oh my, yes, she's not left out, she's rating a handsome civilian, too.

Margaret Wacaster changes her men with the moon, she has resorted to another civilian.

Ruth Stewart isn't behind either, she stepped out with G. T. McSwain, Jr.

Louise Martin, Myrtle Whitaker, Martha Lynn, and Marjorie White found something other than written data on Chapel Hill—Martha Lynn even found an oral piece of humanity.

Ovella is rather lonesome "Since Billy Went Away."

Guy Johnson, along with Morris Gilbert made another appearance on the campus last Saturday. We would believe that their interest was something other than May Day.

"Baby" Harmon knows how to work things—the entire family came to see her perform in May Day. Keep up the good work!

Kat Crawford now sings, "I'll Walk Alone."

Betty Bowling likes the Navy now!

Iva Spake isn't here for decoration only. We all like the looks of Carl and his car.

Polly Camp just can't help shouting when she thinks of Jim's coming home.

Ruth Berry loves red roses or Raymond one—possibly both.

Lillian Gilbert can't get away from Marvin, even though he is in Italy.

Eris Smith has an interest in Charlotte.

Jackie Huskey, Jeanne Rollins, Pat Summer, Polly Camp, Ellwanda Scruggs and Margaret Roberts seem to have a glorious time on such a short trip as one to Charlotte!

RECITAL GIVEN

The Music Department presented Miss Sara Ann Morgan, Miss Doris Hamrick, Miss Colleen Hill, and Mr. Sam Greene in a recital on Sunday afternoon, May 20, at four-thirty o'clock in the E. B. Hamrick auditorium.

MISS HARPER

Another of the loyal, understanding and interesting faculty members on our campus is Miss Elma Harper, instructor of the Romance Languages.

Miss Harper's home is in Trenton, North Carolina. She graduated from Woman's College in Greensboro with her B. A. degree and the University of North Carolina with her M. A. degree. Later she did additional graduate study at the University of Maryland. Before coming here, she taught in Winston-Salem and in the public schools of Jones county, near her home.

In 1936 Miss Harper came to Gardner-Webb. Along with her other duties she serves as chairman of the Executive Committee of the faculty. Her interesting classes and lovely disposition have won the admiration of all the students.

Miss Ivester Presents Recital

The Music Department of Gardner-Webb College presented Miss Velva Ivester, soprano, in a recital Friday evening, May 11, at eight-thirty o'clock, in the auditorium of the E. B. Hamrick Building. Miss Abbie Catherine Miller, piano instructor of the college, served as her accompanist. Miss Ivester was assisted by pianists: Miss Myrtle Whitaker and Miss Marceline Humphries.

The following program was presented: "The Temple Belle"; "Less Than The Dust"; from "Indian Dove Lyrics" by Woodford-Indevu.

"Sonatina in C, Op. 55, No. 3" by Kuhlau; "Tarentella" by Riezcwoz — Miss Humphries.

"All Night Long I Wept" by Hue.

"Solfeggetto" by Bach; "Romance" by Rubenstein; "Polchinellet" by Rachmaninoff—Miss Whitaker.

MISS SMITH

If you came to our May Day exercise you will surely know why Miss Smith is a "favorite" with the students here. Her capability as a teacher and her wonderful personality make her a friend of everyone.

Miss Dorothy Meyers Smith from Lexington, Kentucky, graduated from Georgetown College. Last year she came to Gardner-Webb as instructor of health and physical education.

During the summer months she did graduate study at Columbia University. Miss Smith has very capably managed quite a number of jobs since she came here. Last year she was sponsor of the Freshman class and was largely responsible for the lovely Junior-Senior banquet. Under her direction the W. A. A. has grown into one of the outstanding organizations on the campus. When we are sick it is she that nurses us and soon has us well again.

Then May Day—as director of the May Day program Miss Smith worked day and night—practicing—practicing—practicing—those of you who saw the program will know how much work was involved. We are very grateful to her for all she did to make this lovely program possible.

Yes, as the saying goes Miss Smith is a "Jack of all trades", and good at everyone! She is certainly a well rounded person and one who is admired very much by the students.

"Kashmiri Song"; "Till I Wake" from "Indian Love Lyrics" by Woodford-Indevu.

Miss Ivester, soprano, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Velus Ivester of Polkville, North Carolina. She is an outstanding member of the Glee club of Gardner-Webb College and a voice major.

TACKY PARTY

On Monday evening, May 7, the Woman's Missionary Society "Mothers" entertained the college Y. W. A. "Daughters", members of the faculty, and wives of the ministerial students at a tacky party at the Community Building. Guests wore appropriate costumes, and the entire crowd was amazingly "tacky".

Mrs. J. D. Huggins, W. M. U. president, welcomed the guests. Mrs. Felix Hamrick, Mrs. M. A. Jolley, and Mrs. Hubert Dixon directed several contests and games. Miss Theresa Gathings and Miss Elma Harper were judged the tackiest. Miss Pat Summer won the cracker-eating contest. A paper race was won by Miss Evelyn Harrill. A potato race proved exciting for participants and spectators. Some rather interesting things were learned about various people in a bit of prophecy. Miss Miriam Lipscomb won the chewing gum modelling contest, with a chewing gum bicycle.

Refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and cola were served by Mrs. A. I. Jolley, Mrs. B. G. Beason, Mrs. F. T. Johnson, Mrs. Ostaice Hamrick, Miss Maude Morehead, Mrs. G. P. Hamrick, Miss Nola Patrick, Mrs. Francis Lancaster, Ann Lancaster, and Margaret Jane Beason.

The room was decorated with spring flowers and a new newspaper table was centered with a stew pan of roses with the lid on. Around twenty-five guests attended the affair.

Alumni Banquet Near Completion

On Saturday, May 26, the Alumni Association will have its annual banquet in the dining room of the Huggins-Curtis Hall. The program will consist of special music by Miss Betsey Jane Fuller, Sam Green, Miss Abbie Miller, Mr. Grady Lovelace, and daughter, Miss Linda Lee Lovelace of Shelby. The speaker of the evening will be Mr. Clyde Irvin, state superintendent of Public Instruction.

Plans are well under way for the annual festive occasion, and invitations are being issued to a large number of Alumni.

The menu is as follows: Tomato Juice Cocktail, Baked Virginia Ham, Candied Yams, Green Beans, Southern Fried Chicken, Asparagus Supreme, Pear Salad, Pickles, Olives, Buttered Biscuits, Ice Cream, Cakes and Coffee.
