

The load of all college registrars is far out of proportion to any credit they ever receive. Our registrar, Mrs. Dorothy Hamrick, is an efficient example of that fact—an unsung hero between a stack of catalogues and transcripts, where accuracy and patience must work hand in hand or fail separately.

Welcome To A New Way

Welcome to North Carolina! To many of you who have passed this sign recently, we extend a very hearty welcome, not only to North Carolina, but to Gardner-Webb College as well.

As the road stretches out into the distance and goes on, so will this year which is before you. It is beginning now—this year of 1949-50 with it's work and play. There are so many things ahead, breakfast at 7:30, football games in rain or shine, pep rallies, burning of the midnight oil at exam time, bull sessions about nothing in particular and everything in general. Yes, there are many things ahead at Gardner-Webb this year.

The friends you make of your schoolmates, your professors, and of all with whom you come in contact, is one of the most important things. If you would have a friend be a friend, "A man that has! friends must show himself friendly." Friendship is one of the most important "ships," and you will find the Gardner-Webb campus one of the most conducive environments for it.

Perhaps you would not or could not have come to college had it not been for Gardner-Webb. We are proud to have you as one of us, and we are confident that you will strive to uphold the high standards that are here.

Just as the end of the road above cannot be seen, neither can be seen the direction which each of us shall take after our years at Gardner-Webb; nevertheless, that road which lies here shall never be forgotten. Here's hoping you like a Tar Heel college in the land of rolling hills, where the weak grow strong and the strong grow great.

NEW DEAN ARRIVES

with the Student Personnel Administration.

After teaching English and Latin in South Carolina high schools Professor Baldwin went to Nigeria, West Africa, to serve as missionary for nine years. Resident Dean of Women and Instructor in the Baptist Woman's College, Abeokuta, Nigeria, and Principal of the Baptist Girls' School at Agbor seemed not enough, for while at Agbor, Miss Baldwin set about building a school from the mud of a Nigerian jungle. An account of this, "Did You Ever Build a School," was written in the November, 1947, edition of the Window of Y. W. A. Later Miss Baldwin was Dean of Women of the Baptist College of Pineville, Louisiana.

Editor of the program for the Intermediate Girls' Auxiliary in World Comrades for about five years, Dean Baldwin is listed in "Who's Who in the South and the Southwest" and belongs to the National Association of the Deans of Women and to the American College Personnel Association.
