

Time Out With Red Painter

THE BULLDOGS ARE ON FIRE:

After suffering two losses, one to a conference club, the Gardner-Webb Bulldogs' football team has a new life. A look at the team in practice will tell anyone that they are primed for the coming games. The leather has been cracked and it makes one wonder how the boys stand up to it. The team is in good shape, and will be hard to run down or block. Coach Brantley has been working on speed for the last week. His theory is to get there first and pick up the bacon. Hitting first and hitting harder can mean a big difference between victory and defeat. The Bulldog backfield has been running like a demon, with speed and deception as the main factor. The lines have been rolling like tanks over each other in scrimmage.

The team does not like to be humiliated in the fashion of the Belmont-Abby defeat. So keep an eye on the Gardner-Webb Bulldogs; they are through fooling around.

INJURIES HURT BULLDOGS:

The presence of injuries is very evident in the line-up of the Gardner-Webb Bulldogs. The backfield was hit very hard. One of the boys, with promises of being the best signal-carrying passer in the conference, will miss one or maybe two games because of a twisted ankle received in the last minutes of the Abbey game. Buddy Gantt, while still playing, is not up to his capability as a ball carrier because of a bad ankle. Ervin Shook, bruising his already weak collar-bone, was out one game and will only be back in the next to do the kicking. Anderson Parker will miss the next two games with a bruised shoulder. Edgar Teague, the only lineman missing in injuries, will be out of the rest of the season with a broken shoulder.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL:

Gardner-Webb has really got the football spirit. Not only do the Bulldogs take to the field on Saturday afternoon, but the students who do not play on Saturday take to the field through the week. Each day on the gridiron there is a same between opposing floors from the men's dorms. Whitley Cline, commissioner of the football program, has worked out a schedule that will take care of anyone who wants to play. These boys take this plaything seriously. Winning the game means a lot to the players, and they put everything they have into coming out the victor.

This play and similar programs tend to pull the boys together, getting them to appreciate their fellowman. Sportsmanship has its foundation in games of this sort.

The boys learn to play the game and at the same time to appreciate the sport that Americans love, but so very rarely understand.

BULLDOGS: Bradbourn's eleven moved from their own 40 all the way to the Mars Hill 9, but were turned back when the visitors' Bill Teague intercepted a fourth down pass. The second time they reached the 10, the Mars Hill forward wall stiffened and held. The scoreboard read 0-0 at halftime.

Mars Hill, who had picked up only one first down during the first half, began to move in the third half. With four minutes remaining in the quarter, the visitors' (the game was played in Forest City with G-W the home team) drove from the mid-field stripe to G-W's 5. Bulldog Of The Month

Each month the Gardner-Webb football team and its coaching staff pick from its ranks one man who they think has helped most and done most for the team during the month.

This month's choice was Buddy Gantt, a fleet-footed halfback from Lancaster, South Carolina. Buddy, a sophomore, has been an important factor to the team for two years, and is improving more and more each day. Rated as the fastest man in the conference this year, he is hard to catch when he skirts around the end and through the middle on those effective quick-opening plays.

Suffering a twisted ankle in the first conference game, Gantt carried the ball eight times for a total of 32 yards. This gives him an average of four yards per try in conference competition. We are waiting to see what he will do on two good ankles.

Buddy performed the unusual in the first game of the year with the Gaffney Big Chiefs. On the first play of the year from scrimmage, he took the ball on a quick opening play for 61 yards and a touchdown. There is no better way to open a season.

Gantt does not claim to be a triple-threat. He seldom passes and never kicks, but with his speed and maneuverability he can muster enough running to make up for his lack of other talents.

Liked by all who know him, Buddy has a wonderful personality. He should be complimented on his sportsmanship, both on and off the field. When he puts his 165 lb. frame into football uniform, there is no denying that the uniform was made for him.

We think the team and coaches made an excellent choice for "player of the month." Good luck, Buddy.

down pass fell incomplete with the Bulldogs taking over. On the first play, Shook punted from his own end zone to the 40. Treat returned it 20 yards to the 20, with M. H. going the remaining distance for the touchdown. On the initial play of backed over to the 50. An attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete. With about six minutes of playing time remaining, G-W took possession on the 50 and promptly marched the distance in six plays. A pass from Shook to Smith launched the drive and the twisting 25-yard jaunt by Gantt climaxed it. Bill Cashlon's attempted placement was no good, leaving the score deadlocked 6-6. Gardner-Webb was in possession of the ball on their own 22-yard line when the game ended.

Ted Guthrie, John Gamble, Scott Uzzell, and Frank Arnette stood out in the line for G-W, with Gantt, Smith, Cashlon, Shook, and Puckett carrying most of the offensive load for the Bulldogs.

G-W LOOKS GOOD IN DEFEAT

The Gardner-Webb Bulldogs suffered their first defeat at the hands of the W.C.T.C. "Kittymounts" of Cullowhee, N. C., by a score of 20-13, Saturday night, Sept. 24.

The Bulldogs fought one the hard-charging "Kittymounts" up and down the field with all the power they could muster; but with a lot of breaks at a boy named Hooper, the "Cats" came out on top. The game went into the final minutes with the "Cats" leading by a one-point margin. When one of Peeler's passes was intercepted in the flat and carried over for the score.

Buddy Gantt, although knocked out in the first play of the game, came back and played an outstanding offensive game. Ervin Shook, playing superbly at the tailback spot, came out with a bruised shoulder. David Peeler, working under center like a seasoned veteran, was well supported by Bill Cash-bon, who was in the line as they picked up valuable yardage.

The Bulldog line made it possible for the backs to run by opening up holes in the line. The line went through with Guthrie, Gamble, Teague, Jones, Oakes, and Painter looming mighty big in the line. Edgar Teague will be out for the season with a broken shoulder received in the game.

SOMETHING NEW

a sturdy table and chairs harmonize with the room.

The kitchen is equipped with a refrigerator and electric range, given by our considerate president, a complete set of cooking utensils given by the girls, and a partial girls and boys through saving coupons received from purchases made at Cray's store. The latter being used is that of Miss Baldwin. We are indeed grateful to those making it possible for us to have a kitchen and to Miss Baldwin for letting her silver be used in the kitchen.

As Miss Baldwin said in chapel, Gardner-Webb College is concerned with the social life of the student as well as the physical and spiritual life. We students need to acquire social graces along with the other phases of life.

Since there is only one kitchen to be used by a hundred girls, there must be cooperation on the part of everyone. To have cooperation most satisfactorily, it is necessary to have a system. The kitchen will be open for use each Sunday afternoon from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. When a girl wishes to have boys in the kitchen, she must sign a book for that purpose in the Dean of Women's office indicating the day, the hour, and the list of those who will be with her. One hour will be the maximum time allowed for each group. If she wishes to plan something special for other times, she should contact Miss Baldwin for working it out.

Boys, here is your chance to see the kind of housewife your girlfriend will make. Let's put "them" to the test!

G-W Drops Opener To Abbey, 13-0

by RONALD KISER

Coach Humpy Wheeler's Belmont-Abbey Crusaders pushed across football wins in the second and fourth quarters in Gastonia, Oct. 1, to defeat the Gardner-Webb Bulldogs 13-0. It was the Western Conference opener for both teams.

ABBEY THREATENS TWICE

Abbey threatened twice during the initial stanza. They drove to the G. W. 25 shortly after the kickoff, and almost scored when on fourth down, Fred Snider, who was easily the star of the game for the victors, dropped back and arched a long pass into the end zone to Belmont right end A. C. Hollar who got his hands on the ball, but dropped it. Later in the same chapter, Snider broke off tackle and galloped 40 yards for a touchdown, only to have it called back and Belmont assessed a 5-yard penalty for offside. A few moments later, Snider again went over, this time on the 4, but again Abbey was penalized.

BULLDOGS MARCH

David Peeler, G. W. quarterback, intercepted a Belmont pass on his own 20, midway of the second period, and raced to the 50. The Bulldogs then marched to Abbey's 39, but here coach Humpy Wheeler's Gardner-Webb were stopped by the beefy Belmont forward wall. Bill Fletcher rammed over from the 7 to cap a 68-yard touchdown drive for the 40 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter. Quarterback Ted Reese placed-kicked the extra point, putting Abbey ahead at halftime, 7-0.

ABBEY FUMBLES COVERED

Charles Howell gave G. W. a break shortly after the third quarter got under way as he recovered a Belmont fumble on the Abbey 36, but once again Abbey's strong line rose to the occasion. Ted Guthrie and John Gamble recovered another Abbey bobble midway the same quarter, but once again they couldn't move goalward. The B boys still held a 7-point advantage at the end of three quarters.

COSTLY INTERCEPTION

For the about nine minutes of play in the fourth and final period, Abbey Fullback Alex Ulasiewicz intercepted a pass and raced 45 yards to pay dirt. Reese attempted conversion was wide.

STATISTICS TELL

Buddy Gantt, Bill Puckett and Peeler carried the offensive load for the Bulldogs, who made two first-downs to eleven for Abbey, and 60 yards rushing to 166 for Belmont. Gantt carried the ball 8 times gaining 32 yards for an average of 4 yards per try. Peeler attempted 11 aeri-als, completing two for 13 yards. Puckett, Peeler, Gamble, Guthrie, Uzzell, C. Jones and Foster played outstanding defensive ball for the Bulldogs.
