

Bulldogs Top Greenville, Mars Hill Bow To Gordon, Apps.

After their 19-2 defeat at the hands of the Semi-Pro Gastonia team, the Bradburn and Harris-coached eleven bowed to Appalachian's Jayvees 6-0, whipped North Greenville 21-19, bowed to Gordon Military College 32-7, and spanked Mars Hill 32-13. Those two wins, however, place the Bulldogs in the upper half of the Carolinas' Junior College Conference with a 2-0 record. They have three more tilts with family foes remaining.

The Monday afternoon eleven, spearheaded by Bob Stegall, Ray Carnes, Rudy Wardell, and Julius Pinkston, turned back numerous threats by the App Jayvees squad in the first half of their game in Marion Sept. 23. Appalachian drove to G-W's six yard line on one occasion, and made the fifteen twice, but couldn't penetrate the stiffening defense. The Mountaineers scored in the second quarter, but the play, a sixty yard pass play, was called back. Appalachian drawing a fifteen yard penalty for clipping.

The Mountain lads finally scored in the third quarter when Quarterback A. C. Henson passed fifteen yards to Ed Chuck Hendrix. The try for the extra point was no good. The running of Bob Bush and the passing of Jack Holt sparked the G-W eleven on a drive which carried to the App 20 in the fourth and final quarter but a fourth down pass failed, and the Appalachians took over.

The G-W-North Greenville tilt was a wide-open affair, especially in the first half. Sam Travis registered a Bulldog TD a few moments after the game had gotten underway. The Granite State speedster went over from the seven. Al Homesley took a pass from Bob Bush to account for the seventh after an exchange of punts. James Gowan, Greenville's main backer, scored from the six to climax a 50-yard march. Amos Owens ended the point-after on a field goal sweep. The fireworks really blew loose in the second chapter. The South Carolina lads went ahead when Center Mindle Masters intercepted a G-W aerial, and romped 40 yards to pass territory. Gowan, a moment later, passed 26 yards to John Caldwell, a reserve halfback, for another six-pointer. Neither point was good, and Greenville led at that point 19-7. With about a minute remaining in the half, he arched a long pass good for 20 yards to John Pierce for still another touchdown. Ed Jones converted from placement, and at half-time, Greenville led 19-14.

Gardner-Webb's power began to tell shortly after the second half and under way, and with about 5 minutes remaining in the period they took the lead. The victorious goalward drive was featured by the running of Bush, Homesley, Bob Smith, and Milton Noblitt. Holt scored from the three. Again Jones' kick sailed through the uprights, and the Dogs, whose defense in the last performed brilliantly in the last half, had their 21-19 victory.

The following week, Oct. 6, G-W took it on the chin from Gordon Military 32-7. The Georgians pushed over two touchdowns in the first quarter, the first one coming on a beautiful 58-yard punt play, added another in the second stanza, and led at intermission 20-0. The Bulldogs drove 50 yards for their only TD in the third quarter. Holt took a fifteen yard pass from Bush for the marker. Jones still the uprights making it 30-7. Gordon, however, came back to push over TD's in the third and fourth quarters to register the 32-7 triumph.

Mars Hill was the second ill-fated conference outfit to fall before the Bulldogs. Charles Howell recovered a Mars Hill fumble on the MHC twenty in the first quarter, and after a few running plays, Holt's pass was taken in the end zone by Glenn Pettijohn. Jones' kick was wide, and another wide-open affair, which later turned into a rather one-sided tilt, was under way. After an exchange of punts, Quarterback A. C. Dunn threw fifteen yards to Bobby Roberts to put Mars Hill back into the ball game. Bill Collins swept his own right end to give the Lions a short-lived lead, the only advantage they were able to maintain all afternoon. Bush went over from the six climaxing a 45-yard march in the second quarter. This time Jones' placement was good. A few minutes later, the Gardner-Webbers scored again, this time the drive covering 55 yards with Bush registering his second six-pointer of the day. With about a minute remaining in the half, Gordon Ellenburg took a direct pass from center, and broke into the clear blasting 83 yards to pay dirt. The try for point was no good, leaving the halftime score 19-13.

Travis broke into the clear another Bulldog score in the third quarter. Howell, a defensive demon, set up Travis' goalward thrust by recovering another Mars Hill fumble. Jones' kick was no good. G-W scored again in the fourth and final period when Holt bucked over from the three to climax a 50-yard march. Jones split the uprights, and the Bulldogs had sweet revenge for the licking they took at Mars Hill two years ago.

CRACKER STATE WELL REPRESENTED

The state of Georgia is well represented on the G-W athletic field these afternoons, as eight Cracker state natives are either on or managing the football squad. A ninth member of the Georgia group, Bill Newsom, withdrew from school. Bill Morehead, Bill Mosley, Bobby Nix, Bobby Pettijohn, and Bob Bush are members of the gridiron squad while Jack Metcham and Donald Woods are the managers, and O. G. Morehead is the trainer. Coach Bradburn can count on three of these boys: Bush, Morehead, and Nix, to be around when basketball season rolls around.

MARS HILL VICTORY GOOD MEDICINE

All the Bulldogs, both defensive and offensive units were outstanding in the 13-3 victory over Mars Hill. Comparing this battle with the 21-19 victory over Greenville, we find that the defensive platoon is purely a second half club. N. Greenville scored its nineteen points in the first half, while Mars Hill pushed over their thirteen points in the initial half. The Bulldogs are now in a good position to challenge defending champion Lees-McRae for the crown. G-W's all-important scrap with Coach Fred Dickerson's Bobcats will be staged in Banner Elk Nov. 4.

CROWD MAKES DIFFERENCE

Anybody who has ever donned a football uniform, and trotted on the field for a contest, can tell you fans at the trotters make a difference. They can tell you that you can play a better game if you know somebody is in the stands rooting for you. A group of G-W students followed the club to Mars Hill, and the team responded by outplaying the Lions all the way to win 32-7. So, come on students get on the bandwagon, and follow the Bulldogs to Brevard on Oct. 28, Banner Elk on Nov. 4, Davidson on Nov. 11. They ring down the curtain on the 1950 season here Nov. 17 meeting the strong Western Carolina Jayvees, a team which defeated MHC 21-6, and Asheville-Biltmore 21-0.

INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL UNDERWAY

If you G-W football fans notice another bunch of boys on the opposite side of the football field these afternoons, that is the new Intramural Football League that has been organized on the campus. Four teams have been entered thus far, with two weeks of the season already gone. The teams entered are Second and First Floor-Decker Hall and First and Second Floor-Huggins-Curtis. The boys of Huggins Second seem to have set some sort of a record. They haven't been scored upon in two seasons.

DEFENSIVE PLATOON GREAT

Coaches Bradburn and Harris have this year what they believe one of the best defensive units in the country. The boys who have the job of holding the opposition are Rudy Wardell, Edwin Jones, Ed Miller, Bill Toney, Julius Pinkston, and John Pierce. Bill Morehead, Charles Howell, Ray Carnes, and Robert Stevens are also in the backfield, stayer, Bill Puckett, Bobby Nix, and Bush or Noblitt in the backfield.

Bulldogs Thresh Scottie Club 54-0

G-W pushed over eight touchdowns, made good on four extra points, and added a safety here Saturday afternoon, for a smashing 54-0 homecoming day victory over P. J. C. Gardner-Webb scored after about 3 minutes had gone by, and continued the onslaught with another in the first quarter, 2 more in the second, 3 in the third, and eased off with a single six-pointer in the fourth for their top-laddered victory, third in a row in Carolinas Junior College Conference play. Quarter Charles Howell trapped Scottie Fullback Paul Boan in the end zone for the two points in the third chapter.

Glenn Pettijohn, glue-fingered end from Winston-Salem led the touchdown parade as he racked up 3, one on a 45-yard double reverse, and scored the six points, play from Jack Holt, and the last one on a 50-yard end around play. Quarterback James Sullivan, Delvin Huffstetler, George Hays, Ed Noblitt and Julius Pinkston, and Bob Bush also scored six-pointers for the local eleven while Bob Smith and Edwin Jones (2) made the points, after with Howell getting two on the safety. The entire Bulldog outfit played great ball. Chuck Mayers and Clyde Parrish stood out for the Scottie club.

G-W's airtight defense held the visitors to 7 first downs, 22 yards through the air, and a net of 62 yards gained by rushing. The Bradburn and Harris-coached G-W crew piled up 11 first downs, and gained 365 yards by rushing, about an additional 95 through the air. Holt completed 7 of 11 tosses.

The Gardner-Webbers have now gained 20 touchdowns in 1950. Brevard and Lees-McRae are the two outfits left on the schedule. Brevard will met this Saturday afternoon at Brevard while the defending champ Bobcat team will be met in Banner Elk, Nov. 4.
