Gaylord Lehman

The B.S.U. of Gardner-Webb has a new president, Gaylord Lehman of Inman, South Carolina. Gaylord has proven himself to be one of the ablest and most outstanding members of our freshman class. He is a member of the Choir and the science club and has made the honor roll regularly. It is evident that we can look forward to a revitalized B.S.U. next year under his proven leadership.

Honors are not new to Lehman, he earned many in high school. Gaylord was president of his senior class, Editor-in-chief of his high school annual, and a member of his school paper staff. He was also a member of the glee club, Beta Club, and journalism club. His scholastic average was exceptional also for during his four years in high school he maintained an "A" (95) average.

Gaylord even found time to take part in athletics. For two years he played football as a hard-hitting half-back. He lead his team in scoring one season. His leadership and character was recognized when he was selected to represent his school at "Tar Heel Boy's State."

At graduation Lehman was showered with honors. He was listed in the senior's Who's Who and was voted the most likely to succeed. Then too, he received the medal given each year to the most outstanding senior. He, also, received the high school journalism medal as well as the high school English medal.

Recently Gaylord was elected an escort for May Day here at G. W. by popular vote. When queried about his future Gaylord stated flatly that he was undecided, but he is looking forward to advanced work in a senior college, perhaps Wake Forest. His friends here are certain that he will make a success at whatever he decides to do.

is Frank Haddox, a 1941 graduate of Columbia High in Columbia, Louisiana. While there he was on the softball team, a member of the P.F.A., and a member of the band. Frank, who is a ministerial student, is now acting as vice-president of the Christian Volunteer Band. He says he hopes to go to Louisiana Baptist College upon completion of his work here.

Charles Rabon, a 1949 graduate of Camden High, Camden, S. C. has been chosen as Sunday School superintendent. This year he is a member of the choir, Christian Volunteer Band, and International Relations Club. For further studies in his ministerial career, Charles wants to go to Baylor University.

Jim Trantham, another ministerial student, will be publicity chairman. As a student at Canton High School, Jim was in the music and handicraft clubs, played football and soccer, was on the track team, and played in the band. He was also visual aids director. Jim is looking forward to going to Wake Forest to further his education.

Mollie Hawkins, B.S.U. choister, held a number of office while attending Lowell High School. She was president of the Bible club, Literary Society choister, assistant chief monitor, and president of the Jack Holt will be president of the Student Government of Gardner-Webb College next year. His election to this high post of honor and responsibility reflects the confidence of our student body in his character, ability, and leadership. Jack is a man of high-idealism and fast action. He is equally at ease and just as effective behind a speaker's rostrum as he is on the gridiron. Jack's success as a smooth-working, fast-thinking quarterback has earned him his classmates' admiration, and his sincerity and humility as a ministerial student has earned their respect.

Jack Holt

Jack attended Gray High School of Winston-Salem, N. C. where he held a long series of important offices. He was secretary of the student body as a sophomore, president of the Hi-Y Club as a junior, and president of the Key Club as a senior. In addition to being superintendent of various departments, Jack took a very active part in all the major sports: baseball, basketball, football, and tennis. Jack was chosen "player of the week" by a Winston-Salem newspaper, and his press-clippings alone would fill a scrap-book. He pitched baseball for four years, played as forward in basketball for his four years, and quarterbacked his gridiron squad for three years.

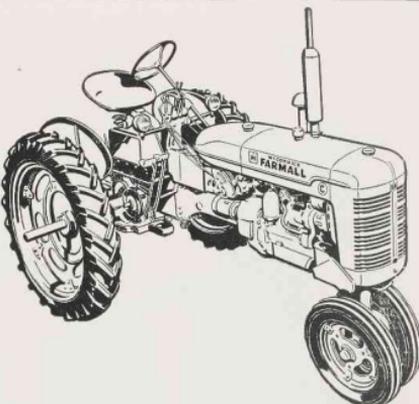

How Jack finds time to study here at G.W. is a mystery but the fact remains that he has a good scholastic average in spite of his many extra-curricular activities. It has been rumored that he has an inspiration at Meredith and there is a picture on his desk to prove it. Jack is sincere ministerial student, and is planning to attend Wake Forest after graduation from here. He has a big job before him next year, but those who know him say he is more than equal to the task.

home economics club. In her church she was pianist, Story Hour Leader, and Sunday School teacher. Mollie is a religious education major.

Faith Johnson of Magnolia is our new director of Training Union. Faith is president of her Sunday School class, and secretary of her Training Union. In high school she was president of her Sophomore class, vice-president of her junior class and chief marshal, and was Valedictorian of her graduating class. Faith is majoring in Bible. Jo Lou Bridges of Shelby is president of Y.W.A. She was president of her senior class in high school and president of the Beta Club. She was also captain of her basketball team.

Max Linnens has been chosen president of the Christian Volunteer Band. Although he left high school at the age of fifteen, he seems to have no trouble making an A average. Besides making these high grades, Max is full time pastor of the East Baptist Mission in Gastonia. Max, whose home town is Graham, N. C., is married and has two children.

Marquean Ross is a music major from Morganton. In accordance with what she is majoring in, Marquean was chosen as pianist for the B.S.U. In high school she was pianist for the school glee club and a member of the honorary society. This year she is pianist for the Christian Volunteer Band. Marquean hopes to continue her work at the Seminary School of Music at Louisville, Ky.
