

A Glance At May Day Predictions

Yes, it's springtime once again on the Gardner-Webb campus and time for the annual crowning event of the year, May Day. Definite plans and preparations are now in progress toward making this occasion, the royal affair that it will be.

Miss Morgan and her physical education girls are putting in hours of hard, steady practice in hopes of producing dances which will be pleasing to "her majesty." Sewing and other signs are prevalent of these busy days of preparation.

This year's May Queen is one of Gastonia's fair daughters, Joanne Kircald, better known as "Joby." Bobby Blackburn, Mary King and the queen's attendants and their escorts complete the May Court personalities.

May Day is scheduled for Saturday afternoon, May 4, in front of the O. Max Gardner Building. Under the capable direction of Miss Morgan and her co-sudent directors, Mary Dean Minges and Mary Lynn Methfessel, it is hoped that this year's May Day will be the prettiest, gayest, and best Gardner-Webb has ever seen.

Two fellows were standing on a street corner. Two women were approaching. "Here comes my wife and my sweetheart!" gasped one. "I was just going to say the same thing," remarked the other, calmly.

Deputation Team Visits Churches

Gardner-Webb's Deputation Team is completing engagements on May 4 in fifteen various Baptist Churches. This work is sponsored by the Public Relations Department of the college and Miss Mabel Starnes, Dean of Women, personally plans the program and accompanies the team to the churches. The team has been going out almost every Sunday since fifteenth of February. They have held two week-end revivals and one week of revival and assisted in another revival for a week. They have held services in the following churches: East Marion Baptist Church, Marion, N. C.; First Baptist Church, Elkin, N. C.; First Baptist Church, Kings Mountain, First Baptist Church, Bessemer City; First Baptist Church, Lincolnton; Front Street Baptist Church, Statesville; Second Baptist Church, Shelby; First Baptist Church, Valdese; First Baptist Church, Cramerton; East Baptist Church, Belmont; First Baptist Church, Cherryville; First Baptist Church, Cowpens, S. C.; Spencer Baptist Church, Spindale; Shaw's Creek Baptist Church, Hendersonville, N. C.; and Calvary Baptist Church, N. C.

Week-end revivals were held in the churches at Elkin and Valdese and a week's revival at Mt. Airy. Forty-three churches of the Calvary River Association joined in the Youth Revival at Valdese. The attendance has been good in every church and has been well received most enthusiastically and entertained graciously in the homes of the church leaders.

The service consists of a song service, a testimony time in which each of the young people tell "What Christ Means To Me In College," special messages in song by other members of the team, and a sermon by one of the young men. An invitation to accept Christ or to dedicate one's life to the Lord is always given and the response has been good.

The following young people have gone on the team: Cline Borders, Jack Holt, Blair Little, Bob Smith, Joe Medford, Pead Sakhlin, Perry Huffstetter, Ned Digh, T. W. Estes, Gaylord Lehman, and Charles Wray Hill as preachers.

Other young people who have gone to speak and to sing are as follows: Carrie Barton, Frances Phillips, Mrs. Bob Smith, Betty Rose, Martha Stone, Nadine Oswald, Mrs. Jack Holt, Sara Lee Hamrick, Frances Rhyne, Mary Jane Sisk, Billie Sue Richardson, Mollie Hawkins, Jonelle Teague, Patricia Smith, Jaunelle Randolph, Catherine Prince, Marquena Ross, Jewel Borders, Faith Johnson, Joe Jackson and Margaret Jackson.

The work of the team has been so effective that Mr. Fisher of the Public Relations Department and Miss Starnes have had more requests for the team to come to the churches than they have been able to accept.

Japanese Driver Gives Road Rules

1. At the rise of the hand of the policeman, stop rapidly. Do not pass him or otherwise disrespect him.
2. When passenger of the foot hove into sight, tootle the horn, trumpet at him melodiously at first. If he still obstructs your passage, tootle with vigour and express by word of mouth the warning "Hi! Hi!"
3. Beware of the wandering horse that he shall not take fright as you pass him. Do not explosion the exhaust pipe on him. Go soothingly by or stop by the roadside "til he pass away.
4. Give big space to the festive dot that makes sport in the roadway. Avoid entanglement of dot with your wheel spokes.
5. Go soothingly on the grease-mud, as there lurk the skid-de-mon.
6. Press the brakes of the foot as you roll around the corners to save the collapse and tite-up.

One afternoon, while relating an experience to a group of fellows, Frank Buck, the big-game hunter, remarked, "Do you know, gentlemen, that if you carry a white stick a tiger won't touch you?" "Whereupon a fellow cracked, "Oh yeah? How fast must you carry 't?"

A boy said to his mother, "Mom, you know that vase in the living room that's been handed down from generation to generation?"

"Yes," replied his Mother. "What about it?"

"This generation dropped it!" he explained.

"Look here waiter, I found a hair in this turtle soup."

"Well, well, so the turtle and the hair finally came together."

Sunny-Side Up

"I was a fool when I married you."
"Yes, but I was so infatuated, I didn't notice."

An advertisement in a Pennsylvania paper attracted a great deal of notice, especially as it was headed "Mother's Day Special." It read: "Don't kill your wife, let our washing machine do the dirty work."

Men's faults are many
Women have only two:
Everything they say,
And everything they do.

"Young man, what do you mean by bringing my daughter home at 4 o'clock in the morning?"
"Gotta go to work at 7."

"Who introduced you to your wife?"
"We just met — I don't blame anybody."

Either you or I, old fellow
Will be turned down tonight.

Susan: "How about your second what would you ask for?"
Betty: "Well, first, I'd wish for a husband."

Susan: "Hoy about your second what?"
Betty: "I'd save it till I saw how he turned out."

"What is the principal occupation of this town?"

"Well," the man answered, yawning, "in winter we set on the east side of the house and foller the sun around to the west, and in summer we set on the west side and foller the shade around to the east."

One very angry skunk to another skunk: "So do you!"

Bill: I see you've given up teaching your wife to drive.

Bob: Yes, we had an accident. Bill: You did! What happened?
Bob: I told her to release her clutch and she took her hands off the wheel.
