

Campus Big Wheels

Bob Workman

Bobby came to Gardner-Webb from Thomasville, N. C., leaving many achievements behind and coming forward to accomplish greater things, for which he has proven himself worthy of recognition in this edition of the Pilot.

Bob had the opportunity of being a three-sport athlete in high school, participating in football for two years, baseball one year, and basketball three years. He was also active in student government and in the H. Y., being secretary of this organization. This background of activities, plus a winning, friendly personality, has caused him to be willing and able to do even more for his fellow students.

Our "Big Wheel" really started his freshman year with a bang. However, due to an injury, he was kept away from football after the first few weeks. Later, the freshman class elected him for its president and he has shown his ability through executing a top-notch Freshman-Sophomore banquet. He enjoys working with his class and being of service to anyone. He really likes us and our friendly attitude, especially does he like the unforgettable friendships he has formed. Bobby's one complaint is that Gardner-Webb is not a Senior college.

Sleeping might be classed as a favorite pastime of his, along with swimming and other sports, and ham would be classified under his favorite food. His future is uncertain — but very bright and hopeful. We are all for him and we know he will succeed after bringing friendly joy to those about him.

Joanne Kincaid

One certain girl has been around Gardner-Webb too long not to have been written up as a "big wheel." She is our Queen of May and Rudy's queen of August and thereafter.

Joanne Kincaid is a queen in every respect — she could quite easily fit the title "queen of fun." For whenever "Jojoby" reaches her antics and impersonations are the life of East Wing and when she visits the other halls — well, it is just a roar. (If you had ever seen her monkey act or seen her with a nylon stocking over her head, you know what I mean.)

As "queen of song" "Jojoby" reaches the highest note. She loves to sing and has been in gleu clubs and choirs as long as she can remember. She always contributes to talent shows and supplies special music, wherever she is needed. (You should see Rudy when she sings "Smiling + bright.")

Joanne is a "queen of a secretary," too, having done secretarial work since junior high school. In her Gastonia High School, Joanne was in the Student Government, the Occupations Club and the Distributive Club, working for the school principal and for an employer in town.

Gardner-Webb she has proved her ability both in skill and in accepting responsibility. She worked in the Bursar's office during her freshman year and she works in the President's office at the sophomore. Joanne is Secretary of the Student Government Association and she fills the office most capably.

Joanne was a member of the May Court last year and this year the student body elected her May Queen — an office requiring beauty, personality, and scholastic achievement, which Joanne is capable of filling.

We mentioned that "Jojoby" is Rudy's "queen of August and thereafter" — well, the ring on her left hand confirms this. This "Queen" has a wonderful reign ahead of her and we wish her the ultimate of happiness and success because she so well deserves it.

Politics

This being election year all over the United States, politics is now a very important subject. Some people think all politics are dirty and stinking, but that is not true at all. Politics is a very vital part of our democracy. In this country we have a model set up of a democracy, yet only about one-third of the population of the United States are eligible to vote will vote. Why? Well, there are many reasons, but most people just don't want anything to do with politics. Anyone with common sense should know better than that. In my opinion, it is a man's God-given right and duty to vote!

In the coming elections at G-W there should be some very interesting campaigns conducted and some very enthusiastic speeches made by the nominees to various offices. Let's watch these young politicians and when you are thoroughly convinced who is best suited for the various jobs, then vote for them! Your votes, while at Gardner-Webb are just as important as they will be when you start voting for the officials of this country.

Incidentally, there is a good number of students at G-W who are old enough to vote in state and national elections this year. I urge everyone that is of voting age to think seriously on this question of voting and vote. Vote your own convictions and for the man of your choice! Never vote Democrat or Republican just because your family are members of that party. There are people who will vote straight Democrat or straight Republican ticket just because their father happened to be a member of that party.

I urge you to take a part in the politics here at G-W, at your Senior level, in your homes and in your community. Select your leaders with care, regardless of how important or how small the office they are to hold.

It is a man's sacred trust and duty to vote the convictions of his own heart. Remember that YOU are the future nation and future politicians of this country, so make politics a sacred and vital part of your life. — (K.S.)

Well, we are preparing for the last round-up and must try to help everyone get a partner, that is if they have any help.

What has happened to Bob Workman and Billie Sue? Her outside Latin work couldn't be taking up all her time, could it, Glenn? Well, Gaylord, it doesn't always pay to take the long way home because you don't even know what might happen on the way. There, there, but Faith? James Monk seems to have found something interesting beside, book in the library, for he really studies on the nights that Becky Luffman works. But it seems as though his partner prefers brunettes, especially from second floor.

In her last letter to Bobby Nix, Elaine forgot to include a lock of hair for each of the other admirers that read her mail. An error on her part, we are sure. Don Woods sure likes to play Indian and he hasn't been going back to his old stumping ground to get his war paint, either. We have heard that "Sweetie" Mosely belongs to a tribe in Shelby, also.

Frances Rhyne and Dot Robertson certainly do hurry up to the Student Center after their practice. We know that Frances' interest is Harold, but we can't decide whether Dot's is Bill, Buster, or Jack. The latter seems to be out front in the race at present. We know Joanne Kincaid had rocks in her head and we weren't too surprised to see one on her hand!

It must be pretty serious when you take them home to meet the parents and get their approval, huh, huh, huh? Well, here you passed the test with flying colors. Joanne's baseball interest sure has increased since last year. Queen's stitching isn't responsible for this, is it? Martha, do you really buy Crawley's? If so, we want to know where you get that much money when you help out, get all of that stuff? Steve Morrisett, get your head out of the clouds, you aren't the only one who has a good-looking girl off the campus, eh, Henry Smith?

Grace Nielsen doesn't let anything keep her from making good grades, not even George Hamrick. Mr. Stacy says to look the natural field over, to come on Tommy, "Tommy" said Bob, you have looked long enough. How about putting your order in? It seems as though Al Cobb has broken his truce with the dirty dozen and is playing ping-pong with Joyce Hamrick. Could somebody enlighten us as what Mr. Fisher meant in literature class the other day when he said some people were thankful for the stairways at G-W?

We heard Pat Withers say she is footloose and headed post Georgia toward sunny Florida. It looks like Frances Phillips "air content" — well, what girl wouldn't be, in her place? Does Peggy help increase sales in the Student Center, Joe? There were more stars in Annette's eyes than there were eggs in her Easter basket when Don gave it to her!

Ruth really seemed to be having a time the other weekend — Claude, Bob, Robert — Oh, well, some have it and some don't!

Well, Betty Gray, it seems that you have finally narrowed the field down — at least we see only Brady down now. Janice Wigford and Dean Buchanan, Betty Rose and Allyn Gibson certainly were lucky to see a big Broadway production in Spartanburg lately. Bet they'll remember "Brigadoon" for a long time. Eloise has gotten quite a collection of pictures lately. Norman is handsome, isn't he, Eloise? Sprink sure must be one of those boys who are coming over to play croquet — well, it is one way to get them over, isn't it, girls! Juanelle Randolph and Joe Bann have really become checker experts — well, who wouldn't after playing every night? Carl, why don't you give the girls on the campus a break?

We have a few other things to attend to so until next time be careful.

Adios!

Senior: I don't know whether to be a barber or an author.

Soph: Why not toss a coin? Heads or tails.

To avoid that run-down feeling, look both ways before crossing.

Daffnition: Tact — the ability to make one's friends feel at home when you wish they were.

Two quarter-wits were arguing. "You're a perfect dope!" exclaimed one, exasperated. "I am not," said the other. "Don't be kidding," advised the other, "none of us is perfect!"
