

BULLDOGS BOWL BOUND

G. W. Eleven Out To Avenge Last Year's Defeat

Lanier Field, Brunswick, Georgia, Friday December 5th, will be the scene of the third annual "Golden Isle Bowl." Gardner-Webb's Bulldogs will entertain Georgia Military Academy in what stacks up to be a whale of a ball game.

Very little is known concerning the G.M.C. boys, but rumors out of Georgia say that our boys will have a job on their hands if they are to take their foes. The Golden Isle Bowl is not new to the members of our team, especially the Sophomores. Last year our boys were invited to play and were defeated in one of the most thrilling Junior College Classics of the year, 5-0, by a strong South Georgia team. The Georgia touchdown was set up by an intercepted pass with only three minutes to go.

Our team this year does not have the depth and experience which the "51" Bulldogs had, but in the words of Coach Norman Harris, who took over the reins left by the departure of Coach Wayne Bradburn, "We may not have the depth, but what we lack in that we make up in the heart, fortitude and the will to win."

BRUNSWICK, GA., Dec. 5

The Bulldogs of Gardner-Webb College defeated Georgia Military Academy here tonight 14 to 0.

This season has been earmarked with many bright and tense moments. After coming up with three straight ties at the hands of Asheville-Biltmore, E. M. I., and Lees-McRae, the boys rallied to defeat N. Greenville 14-0 at Greer. The following week they were handed their first defeat in two years by a Mars Hill eleven. The following week they were awarded a forfeit by P. J. C. and the following week took the most important game of the season, as far as the boys were concerned.

They had tied a strong Asheville-Biltmore in their first tilt of the season and were not convinced that the better team had won. Their chance came in Asheville's Memorial Stadium on Nov. 8, and by virtue of taking that game by a 14-6 margin, they were invited to the bowl game in Brunswick.

The student body would like to commend the team in their spirit, sportsmanship and fair play and wish for them the best of luck. We sincerely hope that the "Bulldogs of Gardner-Webb will come out on top when they are once again Bowl Bound.

COACH NORMAN HARRIS

A Cheer The Other Way

After graduation of last year we only had two cheerleaders left—Cathy Prince, our chief cheerleader, and Joyce Hamrick. This year along with those two girls, we have six more very talented cheerleaders: Jo Ann Propst, a cheerleader from Shelby High; Martha Gantt from Ware Shoals; Virginia Huggins, a cheerleader from Belwood High; Wilma Gathings from Bessemer High; Sue Vance, a sophomore here at Gardner-Webb and also a cheerleader at Cove Creek High; and Jo Ann Rhinehardt a sophomore from Gastonia High.

These girls have really been helping us keep our school spirit. They are doing a fine job so let's don't let them down. Heh! Gang! what about fifteen rahs for our cheerleaders!

The Pilot

Volume VII NOVEMBER, 1952 Number 3
SEC. 562 P. L. & H. BOILING SPRINGS, N. C.
U. S. POSTAGE PERMIT NO. 2

Dramatics Department To Present "Death Takes A Holiday" On December 17th

Author: Alberto Casella
Producer: Dramatics Department
Director: J. Y. Hamrick
Asst. Directors: J. Hamrick, C. Prince
Settings: P. Banus

What strange business is this: A speeding auto collides with a horse drawn cart — no one is hurt; a man jumps from the Eiffel Tower — strolls away uninjured; an automobile skims over the cliff's edge — it roads back to safety on air; a battle field becomes silent — no such orders from either war department; man, beast, and plant cannot die? Why?

The "Villa De Happiness" plays host to strong midnoctual visitor, one Prince Sirke; but this Russian Prince is known to be dead. Who is this man that decides passion from love through a kiss; who kisses life from a beautiful woman?

THE CAST

What kind of man is he?
Alda: "He is fascinating!"
Eric Penton: There's something damn queer about that fellow!"
Baron Cesarea: "Fiddlesticks, safest and soundest man I've ever known!"
Rhoda Penton: "I've seen this man once before, when I was near death!"
Crazia: "I love him!"
Corrado: "Til . . . kill him!"
Major Whitread: "Haven't we met before? I remember once on the battlefield. . ."
Duke Lambert: "If you must know . . . He . . . he is, His Majesty. . .!"
"Death Takes a Holiday," on December 17, 1952.

Corra	Jo Wright
Fedele	Richard Lee
Duke Lambert	Andrew Saris
Alda	Betty Wise
Duchess Stephanie	Ruth Roberts
Princess of San Luca	Catherine Warlick
Baron Cesarea	Yates Campbell
Rhoda Penton	Gwyn Wright
Eric Penton	Keith Snyder
Corrado	Harvey Cannon
Princess	Martha Gant
Gracie Sirki	Steve Morrissett
Major Whitread	Henry Smith

The officer of engineers in charge of constructing a road through a swampy section ordered a lieutenant to take 15 men and get on with the job. "Colonel," the lieutenant reported later, "the mud is over the men's heads. We can't get through." "Nonsense!" roared the officer. "Make out a requisition slip for anything you need and I'll see that you get it."

A few minutes later, the lieutenant laid this memorandum on the colonel's desk: "Need 15 men 18 feet tall to cross a swamp 15 feet deep."