

WHAT THE FACULTY MEMBERS

DID DURING THE SUMMER

Many of you probably wonder what teachers do when school is not in session. Answering that we would say they do a variety of things, but mostly they just stay busy.

Dr. Elliott, our president, was on limited duty because of an illness last winter. He returned to his full time administrative duties September 1.

Dean J. O. Terrell was in summer school at Peabody, completing work on his doctor's degree.

W. Lawson Allen, our vice-president, was on the job at the college. He mixed business with pleasure for a few days in early July when he attended a meeting in Chicago and took the long route home by way of Canada.

John Roberts, publicity director, was at work at the college except for a few days vacation in August.

Wedding bells rang August 18 for Julian Hamrick, business manager, and his bride, the former Miss Sara Ellen Honeycutt.

Our registrar, Mrs. Dorothy Hamrick, spent a sizeable portion of the summer with veterans' registration forms and eligibility papers.

J. Y. Hamrick, dean of men, directed the summer school and taught three classes in English.

Miss Mabel Starnes, dean of women, worked for the Baptist State Convention in several mountain areas, but spent some time sick in the hospital.

Leonard Allen, custodian, was busy with painting, grass cutting, and a million other items of upkeep.

Mrs. J. E. Barnett, assistant dean of women, turned student for the summer session at Appalachian.

Robert G. Carr worked in Erie, Pennsylvania, in the coolness of an ice cream store.

Another teacher turned student was Miss Kathryn Copeland at the University of Missouri.

Francis B. Dedmond taught, but at another college, Appalachian.

Miss Jessie DeShong enjoyed a long vacation, interrupted by occasional work at the library.

Miss Laura Jean Keeter was a graduate student at the University of North Carolina.

S. L. Lamm was engaged in preaching and revival meetings.

Math teaching in summer school was the job of Hubert C. Dixon.

Dr. Robert A. Dyer was dean of the preachers' school at Fort Caswell during July.

Dr. Robert N. Elliott, J. S. Morrisett, Paul Stacy, Dr. T. C. Holland, and M. A. Moseley taught in the summer school.

Mrs. Elma H. Pollock spent the summer at her home near the coast.

Mrs. Nettie Rayle Gidney directed the choir at Central Methodist Church in Shelby.

Directing the community recreation program was a big task for Coach Norman Harris. He also coached the Cherryville American Legion baseball team.

Mrs. Oester W. Shytile visited relatives and was at home in Shelby.

Research and writing on his dissertation occupied William P. Troutman.

Another teacher turned student was Eugene Vosecky, at the University of Tennessee.

New Assistant Coach James Garrison worked in Charlotte.

Miss Hester Martin became Mrs. Charles Haynes on August 21. She did graduate study at Western Carolina College.

SIGMA PI ALPHA

The Sigma Pi Alpha Honorary Language Fraternity of Gardner-Webb is composed of students taking foreign languages. To become a member one must have an unusual interest in languages and a high scholastic average.

The purpose of the fraternity is to stimulate interest; to acquire a more intimate knowledge of the people, life, customs, geography, history, industries, and cultures of foreign countries, and to make a contribution toward bringing about a better understanding between these countries and our own.

YOUNG WOMAN'S AUXILIARY

The Young Woman's Auxiliary, which has one general meeting and one circle meeting each month, seeks to educate those women who are interested in the world need for Christ. Through this organization one is given the opportunity to contribute to home and foreign missions by prayer, service and financial aid.

The aim of the Young Woman's Auxiliary is to unite the young women of our campus in an enduring missionary enterprise through which they will show forth the purity and beauty of the Christ-like character, living a radiant and convincing life in all social relations.

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The Baptist Student Union serves as the connecting link between the college and the local Baptist church.

This group seeks to enlist every student on the campus in active Christian work, and make Christian living a reality to every member of the college family. Every student who joins the local church or Sunday School, the Training Union, Y.W.A., or Christian Volunteer Band, automatically becomes a member of the Baptist Student Union.

This organization is in charge of conducting a Vespers service each evening on the campus, and each year is responsible for a study course and a revival.

The Baptist Student Union serves as a unifying force to tie together all the religious clubs and organizations on the campus and operate them under the overall guidance of a central agency.
