

FROM THE SPORTS DESK

By Dillard Morrow Sports Editor

When the game is over, it's not who won, but how we played the game... that could very well be the proper closing out of another school year.

The Bulldogs have won some, lost some, and a few were rained out. In the scorebook for the football season, the record shows 7 wins and 2 losses. The Bulldogs tied Lee-McKee and Mars Hill for the co-championship and had a near miss at the Little Rose Bowl trip.

On the hardwood the Bulldogs took third place in the tournament at Spruce Pine, the highest standing of a Bulldog team in a long time. With the entire team returning with the exception of Ronald Beane, who will be hard to replace, the Bulldogs should prove hard to handle next year.

As this issue of the Pilot goes to the press, the diamond dusts are holding a 12-9 conference record. After traveling with the athletes teams this year, I have solved the riddle to Coach Norman Harris' secret for winning. Coach's secret formula is telling the boys to play hard, give it all you have, and when the game is over, shake the other fellow's hand, win or lose, and start thinking about the next one.

Morale, chatter, and team work is the cause of it all. Coach Harris deserves a lot of this praise that is being said, but it would be hard for one so inadequately learned as I to add to his long line of praises and accomplishments. However, I would like to add a word of personal thanks to Coach Harris and also to Mr. John Roberts for giving me the chance to report for the teams this year.

I don't know how this phrase will set with the whole crowd, but I maintain that to really be a part of a school, you have to know what it is to play a game in the stands. In other words, you have to pull so hard for a team that when the game is over, you feel like you played every minute of it.

Swimming Pool Opens

Old Sol beamed down in all his glory on Friday, May 17, as if he had been given orders to keep the scene bright and clear for the opening of the new swimming pool at Gardner-Webb. The pool was filled with that mass of humanity from opening time at 2:00 till it closed for the first time at 5:30.

This was not the first time that the pool had been tried, for several of the college boys had previously taken a swim at some forbidden hour.

The new pool has every modern swimming pool convenience; adjoining the pool by a concrete walkway is a small round wading pool for children.

The pool will be open from 2:00 till 5:00 Monday through Saturday afternoons.

The Boiling Springs community will be allowed to use the pool this summer. An admission fee will be charged to non-college personnel.

G. W. 9-BREVARD 3

The Bulldogs sent Brevard home on the short end of a 3-0 score on April 19, taking their fourth conference win with no losses.

Cody Forrester registered his first win for the Bulldogs, but needed help from Wyman Hamrick who came on in the sixth.

Steve Humphries, Paul Roberts, Jackie Reavis, and T. L. Sain got two hits apiece as the Bulldogs pounded Kimbro, the Brevard ace, for twelve hits.

Gardner-Webb hunters gave up eight hits and fanned three. Brevard pitchers gave up twelve hits and left eight standing. The Bulldogs made five bobbles with Brevard making no errors fielding the ball.

Dacus led the Brevard hitters as he collected three hits out of five tries to the plate. Blackburn connected for a home run in the seventh to account for one of the Brevard runs.

G. W. T.-S. J. C. 2

The Bulldogs collected their ninth win against no losses Thursday, May 3 as they spent Spartanburg Junior College home on the short end of a 7-0 score.

Three-hander Cody Forrester was victorious in his second victory against no losses, but needed help from Wyman Hamrick in the sixth.

Forrester gave up one run and all as they walked to the victory. Forrester could get only three men by the strokeout route and issued five free passes. Hamrick had one unearned run and was stingy with hits as he didn't allow a Pioneer hitter to get on with a hit. Hamrick struck out one and they walked two.

Steve Humphries proved to be the man with the big stick as he collected two hits out of three tries. Included in his blasts was a tremendous home run with two men on. Humphries had three R.B.I.s to his credit.

Floyd Wright and T. L. Sain also got two singles and Sain a double. Others getting hits were James Huty and Jackie Reavis.

Leading the Spartanburg batters were Ellenburg with a double, Fowler with a triple and Roof with two singles.

Threadgill was the losing pitcher. He gave up seven hits and struck out one man.

about the election is that it is more than half the student body showed an active interest in the elections. Democracy is ours and we must do our part to preserve it even, or should it be "especially", on the college level. On any level of politics, the candidate needs the vote of confidence and the support of those he, or she, will serve and represent. Have we shown an example of the citizen we will be?

Annals, annually, everywhere, and not a complaint in sight. Patsy Cook Poston is to be commended for her efforts in the most of the students who selected her as the Anchor's editor. It's a job well done, the mutual pride of all concerned.

The new gymnasium now assumes its majestic shape. Interior divisions now give the feeling that you're actually inside the long, rounded, much looked-forward-to building. It, when completed, will not only serve its intended purpose, but will be another monument to the efforts, and sacrifices of those who have made it possible.

We, as students, when we view and realize what is happening about us at Gardner-Webb is in the midst of its great expansion program—can know that we won't be and haven't been getting the "dread" school, and that it is becoming one of best equipped to be found anywhere. As you take that afternoon swim, can you disagree? Hmmmm, in a case like that, who wants to

G. W. 4-MARS HILL 0

In the first game of a twin bill with Mars Hill, the Bulldogs racked up their fifth win as they blanketed the Lions 4-0.

Floyd Wright hurled a neat two-hitter as he gave up only two singles to the Lions. In this bill, only one out could reach second base.

However, the Bulldogs could collect only four hits for themselves, but it was enough to score four runs. All the Bulldog hits were singles with Gary Cannon. No men were on as Cannon unloaded his blast.

John Tyner and Carroll Wright collected the hits for the Lions. Tyner got his in the fourth and Wright connected in the seventh. The Bulldogs committed two errors and the Lions matched this total of bobbles.

G. W. 6-N. G. 5

Ten wins and no losses for the Bulldogs had to come from behind to edge North Greenville Tuesday, May 6, to the slim margin of six to five.

The Widows struck hard and fast as they scored three in the first and two in the second to complete their tallies for the day.

Wilson Daves came in the fourth and was victorious in his fifth win as he came on in the second with the Bulldogs trailing four to two. Wyman Hamrick was the starter, but had to be replaced in the second after giving up four runs.

Hamrick gave up four hits and Daves up three. Hamrick got one man on strikes in one and a half innings while Daves got seven by way of the strokeout route.

T. L. Sain was the leading hitter for the Bulldogs as he collected two hits, one a three bagger. Jackie Reavis collected a triple to complete the extra base hits. Paul Roberts came through in the clutch as he singled with two men on.

The Bulldogs squeaked across the winning tally in the eighth as James Huty sprouted around the bases as the North Greenville catcher kept the outfielders busy chasing throw away balls over second and third.

Quick was the losing pitcher as he came in in the fifth with the score tied at five all.

Hott and Stipes led the Widows at the plate as they collected two hits each. Both collected home runs as they accounted for all the Widows runs in the first and second.

A present is to be presented. That's right! and retiring Pilot editor Bill Kincaid is the self-acclaimed star. In it, he is a carrier-boy for the (?) Times. Outdoors have been allowed no sneak reporters, not even nosy reporters, so it's the guess that the suspenseful presentation will be worth waiting for. In this pages will be the third of the four-phased celebration of Gardner-Webb College's Golden Anniversary.

Margaret's tally sheet on the number of diamond recipients has a new addition — her own. Looks like her statistics paid off.

Painting the cozy picture of contented family living is the setting in gracious lawn chairs on the afternoon, sunglasses, loose clothing, sipping tea under the shade trees.

Who? Why, the Upchurch's, of course!

For months, as this column has been prepared to meet the Pilot deadline, there has been an ever-changing view from this Second West, Decker Hill window. The show with which President Elliot lifted the first spadeful of dirt for the new Phys. Ed. plant has been replaced. In the moonlight and against the dark horizon, the outline of a statey testimonial: "A MAN, A DREAM, A REALITY. May our lives bear this same testimonial!! I bid you a reluctant ADIEU!

G. W. 4-M. H. 3

In the second game of the twin bill, the Bulldogs had to go hard to score two in the bottom of the seventh to tie the game at three apiece and went on to win as they scored in the eighth.

Wilson Daves chalked up his third victory for the Bulldogs as he came in in the sixth to relieve Wyman Hamrick. Hamrick relieved Cody Forrester in the third.

Gardner-Webb hurlers gave up four hits and struck out three men. The Bulldogs could get only two hits off Lion pitcher John Strickland. Strickland fanned four Bulldog hitters.

Arnold Issacs and Steve Humphries collected the hits for the Bulldogs. Humphries ruined Strickland's no-bitter in the seventh and Issacs drove across the winning run in the eighth.

Bulldogs Hold 120 Record

At the last moment before the Pilot goes to press, The Sports Desk was informed that the Bulldogs had a 12-0 record.

Lee McKee forfeited the twin bill with the Bulldogs that was to take place May 10.

The Bulldogs have clinched their fourth championship in the past five years.

Let's all congratulate the Bulldogs individually as we see them on the campus. Also, let's all show our appreciation and congratulate Coach Harris for his successful year in all sports.

We have had the greatest teams in Gardner-Webb sporting history this year. Other Bulldog teams may have had better records, but all in all, this year has been the greatest. In other words, there may have been greater, but I doubt it.

With only two games remaining, the Bulldogs are a high favorite to have a perfect season—we'll have to wait and see though.

As this is the last issue, let me thank all you readers and let me leave with you this sincere hope, that you have enjoyed articles from The Sports Desk.

Also, a word for the man with the ambition to write sports for the school next year. I would like to give some advice.

First, take the job if you have your heart in the game and always remember if you can't play sports, at least be one.

Second, take the job if you intend to give it your best and you

G. W. 7-BREVARD 2

The Bulldogs traveled to Brevard and brought home their seventh straight victory as they defeated Brevard in a twin bill.

In the first game the Bulldogs struck hard and fast to rick Brevard 7-2.

Floyd Wright gained his second victory for the Bulldogs as he went the distance on the mound. Backed by sound team work and hustle, which is one of the Bulldog assets, Wright was never in trouble.

Arnold Issacs led the Bulldogs at the plate as he collected two hits out of three tries.

In the second game, the Bulldogs scored one run in the first and two in the second and held on to take their eighth win 3 to 1.

Wilson Daves captured his fourth win giving up seven hits to the hard hitting Brevard stickmen.

The Bulldogs could collect only four hits while giving Brevard six. Steve Humphries and T. L. Sain led the Bulldogs in this department as they connected for a double each. Dacus and Sims led Brevard at the plate as they collected two hits apiece.

Here's How They're Hitting

AB	Hits	Average
Issacs	31	7
Humphries	35	12
Wright	37	9
Cannon	39	6
Roberts	34	10
Huty	21	5
Sain	23	9

time that it takes to do the job well.

Third, as for extrinsic rewards are concerned, the reward is comparatively small, but as for as intrinsic gains you will be the wealthiest man on the campus.

Fourth, luck to you and remember the Bulldog teams are your team. Let the people know about them.
