"GOING STEADY"

going steady.

Steady dating limits a person's chances for meeting other interesting boys and girls. One is likely to have a better developed personality and a greater understanding of people if he has had the experience of dating more than one person. And how long does "going steady" last?

Some couples find going steady isn't as much fun as they had anticipated. At any rate it may be the part of wisdom to have an understanding that "going steady" may be for any length of time.

Gotples who seems to go the steady of the length of time.

Couples who go steady may want to plan many of their dates with a group. Then they will have the opportunity to find out if there are others among their friends whom they would like to know better. One thing is sure—the world is full of wonderful Christian people. Don't miss knowing some of them.

Want To Remain In School? Here's How

Following are 10 suggestions from Robert Tyson, of the Hunter College (New York) department of psychology and philosophy, on how to stay in college:

Bring the professor newspaper clippings dealing with his subject.
 Demonstrates feeling interest and gives him timel items to mention in class. If you can't find clippings dealing with his subject, bring in any clippings at random. He thinks everything deals with his subject.

Look alert. Take notes eagerly.
 If you look at your watch, don't stare at it unbelieving and shake it.

Nod frequently and murmur, "How true!" To you this seems ex-aggerated; to him, it's quite objec-

5. Laugh at his jokes. You can tell. If he looks up from his notes and smiles expectantly, he has told a

6. Ask for outside reading. You don't have to read it. Just ask.

7. If you must sleep, arrange to be called at the end of the hour. It creates an unfavorable impression if the rest of the class has left and you sit there alone, dozing

8. Be sure the book you read during the lecture looks like a book from the course. If you do math in psychology class and psychology in math class, match books for size

9. Ask any questions you think he can answer. Conversely, avoid an-nouncing that you have found the answer to a question he could not answer, and in your brother's sec-ond grade reader at that.

10. Call attention to his writing. Produces an exquisitely pleasant ex-perience connected with you. If you know he's written a book or an ar-ticle, ask in class if he wrote it.

As to whether or not you want to do some work in addition to all this, well it's controversial and up to the Individual

THE JOCKEY SLIPS A DISC

By Ronald William

Hi, kids. This is three speed Steve, ne teen-ager's deejay, reminding the teen-ager's deejay, reminding you again that radio is bigger than ever . . . I've got my Crew Cut Simonized, all ready to spin the 87 top tunes from our survey of pianoroll and the songs you've requested from organ-grinders across the

But first a public service reminder. Fight forest fires three ways with a hose, with a shovel, or spit on it. Now back to the music, as soon as I catch that phone, probably an-other record request pouring in. Hello . . . you say the baking class at Elvis Presley High School wants at hivs Pressey High School wants to hear "Twe got Rocks in my Rolls over you?" . . . Coming right up, after a word from Gray Fiannel Fla-nagan, where you get that ultra-Ivy league look, no shoulders, no hips, just three buttons and a label Remember you can't best Gray.

Remember you can't beat Grav Flannel Flanagan's low, low over-head—three floors under the base-ment. Walk downstairs and save the elevator.

Now back to the music, but first the correct time, if my watch hasn't

There's big news of the world today from Washington, London, Paris, Moscow, and Boiling Springs, and that concludes the brief, brief, brief world news. Now back to the music, and another public-service reminder . . Are you young, alert, looking for a real Career? If you got a good head, and four good legs, the U. S. Cavalry needs YOU . . .

Time for another word from Gray Flannel Flanagen. He's got walking shorts, running shorts, or shorts to dream in. The perfect gift for the man who has nothing. Fellows, how about a pair of walk shorts with subtle red, white, and blue stripes, suavely setting off a facket, with a shawl collar—or just a shawl, if you prefer? It's the perfect duo for the informal evening at the corpus shaw informal evening at the corner shop. or lying casually in the swimming
