

Freshmen — remember when, about two months ago you were GREEN freshmen? A lot of water has gone over the dam since then and now you're men and women, wise in the ways of the world, huh? However, there's a long, long road ahead. Study anyone?

Our National Status Is Subject Of Shelby Daily Star Editor's Speech Here

"What America needs most is not a new national purpose, but a renewed national purpose." On October 9, Richard L. Shelton, editor of the "Shelby Daily Star," began his speech on our national condition with the preceding words.

Shelton, in discussing the alteration of our national purpose, paraphrased the opening words of the Preamble of the Constitution:

"We hold these truths to be self-evident (at least, unless and until they are overturned by the Supreme Court or vetoed by the Russians); that all men are created equal, must develop quality, share equally in the riches of the world and remain equal all their lives whether they want to or not; that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these rights are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness — and if men cannot find happiness by pursuing it, it shall be the government's duty to deliver it to our doorstep.

"The dream for which Nathan Hale died is now a reality and yet, a year ago, when another young American was on trial for

New Trailers Added To Park

Facilities to accommodate more married students were added this summer to Gardner-Webb's "G. I. Hill." The additional accommodations consist of eight used house trailer units amounting in value to about $7,500. The trailers are in very good condition.

These units were donated to the College by a member of the board of trustees of the College, A. T. Withrow of Charlotte. Although the units are parked in a temporary trailer park, four are already occupied by the following couples: the Harold Billings, the Gene Brovades, the Ad Hoopers; and Robert Plummer.

Married students who own a house trailer may also "set up house" on G. I. Hill. The latest addition to the trailer park is Don McSwain with his house trailer.

BSU-Sponsored Discussion On Held

The first of a series of group discussions was held in the Hamrick Building on Tuesday night, October 17. This first discussion was led by C. Allen Burris, professor of history, who contrasted Communism with Christianity.

Throughout the year the B.S.U. will sponsor more discussion groups, which will be led by capable persons who have a particular interest in the subject under discussion.

Students who have a topic which they would like to have discussed are urged to contact any member of the B.S.U. executive council or Dean John Elliott.

Some suggested general categories under which these specific topics could fall include the church, the Bible, social problems, or world conflicts.

his life he said, "I didn't know what I was doing. I know now that I was risking world peace, and I am sorry. My superiors were responsible."

"This was Francis Powers, the U-2 pilot, a $25,000 a year hero talking."

Our national fear of public opinion has been at the base of our most recent grave miscalculations in judgment. In fact, maintains Shelton, it "may lead us to abandon our nation."

Shelton concluded, emphasizing that our generation most probably will have the responsibility of re-establishing our nation's high ideals; only thus will we grow stronger "as one great nation — under God — holding high the standards of liberty and justice for all — FOR ALL THE WORLD."

G-W faculty members earning advanced degrees during this past summer were Coach Bob Blackburn, Mrs. Betty Logan, and Miss Abbie Miller. The trio admire the diploma awarded "Miss Abbie" by Kentucky Wesleyan College, Owensboro, Ky. She earned an A. B. degree with a major in English. Blackburn won his M. A. at George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville, Tenn., and Mrs. Logan was awarded the Master's degree in business education at Appalachian State Teachers College, Boone.
