Four Programs Presented

Choir Groups In Christmas Events

The Gardner-Webb College Chorus presented "The Messiah" Sunday, December 10, assisted by the Central Methodist Church Choir of Shelby. The annual Christmas program, under the direction of Mrs. Nettie Rayle Gidney, was presented in the E. B. Hamrick Auditorium. Larry Hicks, G-W graduate, now a Davidson junior, assisted at the organ.

Soloists for the program were Loreita Brooks Suttle, soprano; Janet Newton, alto; Jim Tall, tenor; and Frank Coffey, bass. Among the numbers by the chorus was the "Hallelujah Chorus." "The Messiah" was broadcast on WGHS radio and taped to be played again on Christmas Eve.

A double octette composed of members of the College Choir gave a cantata December 6, a quartet from the Choir entertaining members of the Cecilia Music Club in Shelby December 6, and the final Christmas program by the college choir was presented Monday during the chapel hour.

Contest Winners Are Announced

The results of the door decoration contest in Stroup and West Wing Dormitories were divulged last night at the girls' annual Christmas party. Linda Lou Cannon and Mary Frances Chaffin, 302 Stroup, scored first place with the variation of an idea Mary Frances found in a magazine. Six gifts — faith, love, humility, peace, patience, hope — were represented by candles on a gold background. Each candle was set off by a sprig of pine at the base.

Second floor's runner-up was Carolyn Cook and Myra Hurst, both from Reidsville. Their door featured three singing faces against a silver background, with mailbox complete down to the red flag and holding a Christmas card.

Nancy Dyson was runner-up from West Wing. A Christmas tree, decorated with silver balls and stars, provided the basis of her decoration. Under the tree were small presents from each girl in West Wing.

Runner-up from first floor was Sheila Richie and Nancy Slawter. A wreath of silvered pine hung against a red background. Above were two red and silver foil bells.

HAPPY Has

When the contest was held November 23, pretty Nancy Ann Campbell, cheered on by HAPPY residents, captured the crown over 16 other contestants.

Last year, Miss Gail Robertson, also a HAPPY selection, captured the Gardner-Webb beauty title, and after the second semester ended, went on to win the "Miss Forest City" title and a chance to compete for the "Miss North Carolina" crown. Before the summer was out, Gail had captured the "Miss Rhododendron" title too.

Students Face Busy Season Bravely

Term papers, special reports, and projects have their effect on students here at G-W. Freshmen and sophomores alike show up in the morning with bloodshot eyes, unshaven faces, and horrible dispositions.

Complaints about being overworked are also common during this portion of the year. Other popular questions are, "Hey, Gene, how many notecards are ya gonna have?" Another question is, "Donna, have you started on that term paper yet?"

Donna usually answers "not yet" even if she is through with the "thing."

Sophomores were dealt a low blow this year. They have to write two term papers. One group, however, is being permitted to give an oral presentation of their research. This indicates that a laryngitis epidemic may be on the way.

Bright Spot

There is one bright spot in the future, though, and this is two glorious weeks away from those miserable rotecards come Christmas vacation. Probably some students will be singing "All I Want for Christmas Is a Twenty Page Theme on The Rise and Fall of Popular Literature During the Stone Age As Revealed by the Cave Drawings on Fred Flintstone's Bedroom Wall."

Such a request would make the little, fat, jolly old man with the V-8 sled tuck hari-kari against the side of the nearest ship. But he of good cheer — if you don't do it now, you can do it in summer school.
