I DIDN'T GO TO THE FOOTBALL GAME LAST WEEK BECAUSE "Every time I go to football games someone asks me for money at the gate. They even tell me how much to give. The seats were hard. With all that money you would think they could put in comfortable easy chairs with backs on them so a fellow could go to sleep if he wanted to. The field judge said and did things that I could not agree with. If he wants to run things that way, he will run them without me. There were a lot of hypocrites around me. They were more interested in soda pop and hot dogs than they were the game. I think some of the ladies just go to see what the other ladies are wearing. Since buying a book on football, I can stay home and read it. I get more out of it that way. I can make just as good a football fan as those that go to the games and get concerned." adapted from a newspaper clipping by W. F. Tanner, Florida. "He that has ears to hear, let him hear."
