

THE PILOT

Gardner-Webb College—Home of the Bulldogs

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1972

BOILING SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA

Co-ordinators of Religious Emphasis Week, "It's the Real Thing," view the publicity sign for the week. Pictured from right to left are Mike Shook, BSU President, Dr. Robert Lamb and Mr. Robert Decker.

"It's The Real Thing"

Claypool Leads '72 Religious Emphasis Week

A five-day Religious Emphasis Week featuring Dr. John Claypool, pastor of First Baptist Church, Fort Worth, Texas, is being held on campus this week.

The purpose of this designated week is to show that the gospel introduced in the fall revival with Dr. Claypool is an emphasis on responsible involvement in solving the problems of the world and the individual.

The theme for the week is "It's the Real Thing." According to Mr. Robert Decker, Baptist Student Union Director, the "real thing" is life, specifically the Christian life. In accordance with the theme, the song for the week is "It's the Real Thing," the Coca Cola theme music.

Twenty-six senators present began to fill vacancies in the Senate involving senators who did not attend the meeting or who submitted their resignation. To replace Clara Eggleston from Hap Dorm is Debbie Moore; Mary Suttle, a freshman senator will be replaced by Brad McBride; Teeter and his Committee day student will be replaced by Susan Byers and Sam Madison; as Senator-at-large, Dicky Brown will replace Robert Thompson.

Dr. Arthur Nuhrah was elected to be the faculty advisor as well as president of the Senate. Senator Government Senator Dr. Nuhrah has been serving as parliamentarian and with the removal of Dr. Ellenburg as faculty advisor, the Senate voted at a special meeting to name Nuhrah to allow Dr. Nuhrah to serve as faculty advisor also.

Other business included consideration of senate absenteism and the beginning of impeachment procedures against four senators for negligence of duty and failure to attend meetings. These senators are Henry Allen, a sophomore senator; Ricki Barker, a junior senator; Phil Hopkins, a senior senator; and Tommy Way, senior senator. These senators will be required to go before the Judicial Board.

The twenty-six senators present began to fill vacancies in the Senate involving senators who did not attend the meeting or who submitted their resignation. To replace Clara Eggleston from Hap Dorm is Debbie Moore; Mary Suttle, a freshman senator will be replaced by Brad McBride; Teeter and his Committee day student will be replaced by Susan Byers and Sam Madison; as Senator-at-large, Dicky Brown will replace Robert Thompson.

paster and an "outstanding speaker on Christian Ethics."

The week prior to Religious Emphasis Week, February 1, Jerry Buckner, consultant on campus ministries for the Student Department, Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, Tennessee, spoke in chapel as the introductory speaker.

Religious Emphasis Week involves required chapel sessions on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons. Tuesday and scholastic Monday, Wednesday, and Friday will be adjusted with shortened classes. Optional seminars led by topic personalities are on Tuesday and Thursday morning at 9:00 and Tuesday and Thursday evening at 6:00. Students are not required to attend the seminar sessions.

Topics for discussion for the week-long emphasis include such subjects as: The Christian Life; Dr. Franklin C. Draper, Christian Marriage; Clash of World Philosophies; Everyday Problems of Being a Real Person, Facing Honest Doubt about Doing Good; Will of God; and the Convention of Christian Students. Now that you are 18 and have the vote, Population Explosion, Poverty and Hunger in the World, and War and Peace.

Local community personalities will be leading many of the seminar sessions. Some of these people include: Dr. Gene Washburn; Mrs. Harold Cauby, a Christian mother from First Baptist Church, Shelby; Rev. Dr. W. E. Shultz, pastor, Shelby Presbyterian Church; George Webb, pastor, Shelby Presbyterian Church; and Joe Mauney, Shelby city attorney. Along with each guest personality, a faculty member will act as host in each seminar session.

Decker revealed that community speakers are being used as an effort to draw the student body and community closer together. "It is hoped that students will become more involved in their responsibilities to help other people and to share life," Decker stated.

One feature of Religious Emphasis Week is the dormitory rap sessions that were held on Monday night, February 7 at 9:00 p.m. Dr. C. L. Heyerdahl, Dr. H. G. Shultz, Shultz assistant, Dr. Furman Hewitt and Mr. Lyman Farrel spoke to the girls concerning abortion. At the same time rap sessions were held in the boys dorms.

During the week, a survey is being conducted concerning student interest and community service. The survey is being conducted by Mrs. Dan Proctor. After results of the survey have been tabulated, attendees will be able to speak to every student who expresses an interest in opportunities to serve in the communities around us in a meaningful way.

Mr. Jim Green, the state Baptist Student Union Secretary for the North Carolina Baptist Convention will be coming Thursday and Friday to talk to the students. He along with Dr. Claypool will attend regular sessions throughout the week.

In preparation for the Emphasis Week, a Baptist Student Union Picnic will be held Saturday. The picnic will be held at Camp Grier, Old Fort, North Carolina, on February 4-5. The over-night retreat consisted of the final music preparation for the Religious Emphasis Week.

SGA News

Dr. Arthur Nuhrah was elected to be the faculty advisor as well as president of the Senate. Senator Government Senator Dr. Nuhrah has been serving as parliamentarian and with the removal of Dr. Ellenburg as faculty advisor, the Senate voted at a special meeting to name Nuhrah to allow Dr. Nuhrah to serve as faculty advisor also.

Other business included consideration of senate absenteism and the beginning of impeachment procedures against four senators for negligence of duty and failure to attend meetings. These senators are Henry Allen, a sophomore senator; Ricki Barker, a junior senator; Phil Hopkins, a

John R. Dover Memorial Library

Dover Library Soon Underway

Construction is to begin late this spring or summer on the new John R. Dover, Sr., Library. The structure will be completed sometime in 1974, according to Mr. Alton H. Malone, head librarian.

The library is a fitting memorial to the memory of the community-minded man who founded the Dover Textile Group and made it possible for so many of this employees to advance their own careers. The Dover facility constitutes the core of the academic program being planned for the senior college.

With three floors, the new John R. Dover Library will have 45,000 square feet of floor space, and a maximum capacity of 150,000 books.

The bottom floor will house a teaching material center, an audio-visuals laboratory, a library-science classroom, a record room, and also stacks and seating.

The ground floor has the main entrance to the building. It includes a periodicals area, both current and bound, a special collection, which includes the library's historical and donated collections valuable to the school, a reference section, a circulation area, a card catalog, library offices and lounge for library staff, a work shop area and technical processing area, and an outside loading dock.

The main floor is seating space, book space, and individual and group study rooms.

The new library will be located in the parking lot behind Decker and in front of Myers Dorm. This modern library will be a great service to the students as their library needs have increased since Gardner-Webb has become a senior college.

Friday Night At The Movies

The Student Union Committee on Entertainment is bringing the "The RA Expeditions" to campus Friday night February 11, 1972. The movie will be presented in Hamrick Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

"The RA Expeditions" is the award-winning film account of Thor Heyerdahl's epic voyage by paper boat from Africa to the Americas.

Heyerdahl, famous for his Kon-Tiki and Aku-Aku expeditions, went with eight other humans, a monkey and a duck to prove that a boat made only of papyrus reeds and a rope—a copy of those used thousands of years ago—could have carried early tribes across the Atlantic to South America many centuries before Columbus.

Experts warned him not to try, but in 1969 he hired boatwrights from Chad, Africa, to build RA 1, named for the Egyptian sun god.

Experts warned him not to try, but in 1969 he hired boatwrights from Chad, Africa, to build RA 1, named for the Egyptian sun god.

Construction is expected to be completed in April on the John R. Dover Memorial Chapel if good weather prevails. The building will be erected through the proceeds of the 1965 capital gifts campaign for Gardner-Webb, the chapel was made possible through the gifts of the Shelby Industrial family.

The $300,000 building will seat 336 in the chapel area, house eight offices and three classrooms in the basement. The basement is hoped to be finished by February. The chapel offices include a Baptist Student Union office and college minister's office.

He chose a crew of seven men from seven nations and embarked from Safi, Morocco. RA 1 sailed to within 600 miles of landfall before breaking up and sinking.

Undaunted, Heyerdahl tried again the next summer. RA 2 successfully sailed 3,270 miles in 57 days from Safi to Barbados in the West Indies.

"The RA Expeditions" was a winner at the 1971 MIFED International Film Festival in Milan.

Students will be admitted to this film free of charge by getting a ticket at Mr. Poston's office and others will be charged $1.00 at the door.

The response to "Cool Hand Luke" prompted this movie. Perhaps if the response remains good, the students will have more movies this semester on campus. Register your preferences with Mr. Poston.

Chapel Construction Near Completion

Work on the new John R. Dover Memorial Chapel, above, is near completion. It will provide a main focal point at the entrance to the college.