

Cheerleading Guidelines Adopted

Guidelines for the selection of cheerleaders was adopted by the Student Senate on March 14. The guidelines will take effect immediately and the 1972-73 cheering squad will be elected the week of April 24.

The guidelines require that a cheerleader be a full-time student at Gardner-Webb. Also all cheerleaders must meet the academic requirements of the NAIA. Cheerleaders must not be on academic or disciplinary probation.

A cheerleader must not be on the squad more than eight semesters. The cheerleader try-outs, screening, and elections will be held the last full week in April.

Any student meeting the qualifications may try-out.

A representative screening group consisting of two Bulldog Club members, one faculty member, the head coaches, the team coaches captain, the cheerleader sponsor, and eight student senators will select those applicants who will try-out.

A representative screening group consisting of two Bulldog Club to lead similar workshops on their own campus at N. L. M. trainees. Also included in the program will be a small group seminars and model program workshops structured to aid campus leaders in government, entertainment, public relations, spirit and sportsmanship.

Among the speakers at the convention will be Harry Dent, Judge Eliria Alexander and Harold Grant. Mr. Dent with headquarters at the White House, is Special Counsel members, one faculty member, the head coaches, the team coaches captain, the cheerleader sponsor, and eight student senators will select those applicants who will try-out before the student body.

Separate male and female try-outs will be held. After screening the screening committee will set a ratio of male to female cheerleaders based on the number of male and female applicants. A maximum of ten persons will compose the cheerleader squad.

Final selection of cheerleaders will be a vote of the student body in an assembly in which try-outs before the student body are held. The cheerleaders will be those applicants receiving the highest number of votes in accordance with the established male to female ratio. Ballots from the vote will be counted and the results posted by the SGA Elections Committee.

Also two freshman cheerleaders will be selected from a list of all freshman applicants by the incumbent cheerleader squad.

Any vacancies on the squad which due to becoming ineligible to represent the college, resignation, or any other reason must be filled according to the guidelines. The student senators should decide if the vacancies warrant selections. Special elections may be scheduled by a majority vote of the Senate.

The Atlanta Rhythm Section are scheduled for Thursday, May 4, in Best Gym, from 9:00 until. This is the day before Dead Day.

Spring Tour Ahead For College Chorus

The College Chorus will be on their annual spring tour Thursday and Friday, April 27-28. The forty-one voice Chorus is a select choir of students with the members chosen upon audition.

The tour itinerary includes concerts on Thursday, April 27 at Lincoln College in Hudson, Gamwell - Collettsville High School in Lenoir, and Front Street Baptist Church in Statesville.

On Friday, April 28 there will be five performances involving Hibernian High School in Lenoir, Hudson High School, Valdese High School, Glen Alpine High School, and Union Mills High School.

Also the Chorus will perform at West Cleveland High School on April 14 and will present a terrace concert at the O.M.G. building on April 25.

The Chorus will sing both sacred and secular music. The program for each performance includes ten selections. These songs are "Spinning Wheel," "We've Only Just Begun," "Peace for the Taking," "Psalm 23," "My Eternal King," "Glory to God," "I Don't Know How to Love Him," and "Son of a Carpenter." Also at each performance Troy Harmon and Janet Whisnet will speak about Gardner-Webb for the purpose of recruiting.

The pianist for the Chorus is Jo Ann Fowler and the alto soloist is Candy Cline. The group is also assisted by Bill Sanders on the electric bass, Leland Kerr on the string bass, Rocky Taylor and Mary Jo Byrd playing regular guitars, and Brad Fulk on the electric guitar. Additional instruments are used such as the tambourine by Lee Young, the claves by Ken Brooks, Susan Slatte with the congo drum, and Beth Bolick with the maracas.

19th Annual SUSGA Conference in Miami

The Southern Universities Student Government Association announces their 19th Annual Conference to be held on April 20-22 at the Deauville Hotel in Miami Beach, Florida. The theme of the conference is "Leadership Creativity in Action" and the program will include a nine hour National Leadership Methods workshop and N.L.M. seminars to certify advisors and other interested delegates to the President and former State Chairman of the South Carolina Republican Party, Mrs. Alexander, is a Federal District Judge in North Carolina and author of the book Is Man Free. She was the first Black to be elected as Judge in North Carolina. Mr. Grant, featured as one of the ten most exciting professors in the Big Ten Universities when he was at Michigan State, is now Director of Student Development Services at Auburn University.

The convention will also include a coffee house, pool party, dance, and plenty of Florida sunshine.

Representing Gardner-Webb will be Jeff Cranford, Karen Hardin, and elected 72-73 SGA officers.

Students were elected: Bud Skinner, vice president; Mike Stewart, chief justice; and Candy Cline, secretary.

The candidates gave their platforms for the benefit of the voters. They agreed this year's executive officers, senate, and judicial board will be successful in their endeavors and had laid the foundation for a creative and constructive Student Government Association. The candidates for the Student Government Association is needed the candidates agreed that this would be accomplished only through continued noble leadership and the seriousness of the students to become more involved in SGA activities.

Elections Put Two SGA Offices in Run-off

The Student Government Association primary election held on March 22 and 23 with approximately four hundred seventy students voting, resulted in a run-off election for the offices of president and treasurer. Richard Grant and Steve Riddle received the highest number of votes in the race for president which excluded Eddie Middleton from the run-off election. John Fowler and Bob Grant were placed in a run-off for treasurer when neither they nor the third candidate, Julian Fowler, received a simple majority vote. Those run off elections were held on March 29 and 30.

The uncounted candidates for the offices of vice-president, chief justice and secretary received the simple majority vote needed to obtain an office, hence the following

A Day in the Life Of A G-W Student

One would think that the usual college student would wake up in the morning after a great night of sleep and say, "Good morning beautiful world, it's great to be alive." That phrase went out with General George Custer. Today things have changed. Instead, if you aurod on a dorm at 7:30 in the morning you may hear, "I can't believe I drank the whole thing, I just can't believe I drank the whole thing," or "Today is like yesterday, I wish today was tomorrow."

After the clock goes off and you jump out of bed, you wonder if the nights are getting shorter and classes longer. When you roll over and shut the alarm off and see that it is 7:30, you may say "It can't be 7:30 in the morning, I just went to sleep." But it is up, up and away - charge! To the shower, brush your teeth, dress and rush to grab a bite to eat in the lunchroom! Doughnuts, O. J., boy that was a great two doughnuts, Oh, Not 9:00. Dr. Brown will be very upset if I'm late again—Steven Wallace Burns. Pardon, Dr. Brown would you please repeat that last phrase—Oh, Wallace Stevens burns his draft card—Shelby, yes em - that place is six miles from GWC.

On your way to history studying you will be called on to answer twelve page 25 discussion question quiz, I stop to think, "Is this real, am I really here?"

That paper due for Miss Jolly! Get that paper done for my Social Psychology for Mr. Jolley, it's my day to be called on. Fat lady, in your practice, a meeting tomorrow - who knows? Mr. Jolley what was it you said about the party last night? But Miss Jones the loops won't meet with the stitching? No, Dr. Huphey I think the situation is finally proven by the U.N. O.K. Mr. Decker, let's start again, 1-2-3-4. Finally lunch, supper, I'm finally beans, beef and I forgot to go to the library, but forget it, finally! All 7:00 Hayes' night class, forgot about that speech, finally—rest. Go where, the O.K. Snack, no Roger you place, finally—at the end of the first quarter if you are continuing another, sure Hal, type those 28 pages in 10 minutes. Well, I'll try to play some basketball, no Stover, the T.V. does work, sure ya'll can listen to the stereo, but we got to go to bed, chapel tomorrow, finally, 1:00 a.m. sleep, ahhhh! O.K. don't knock the door down, a cigarette, Good Night!

English Society To Initiate Six

Six students will be initiated into Gamma Lambda, the Gardner-Webb College chapter of Sigma Tau Delta, a national English honor society, on April 6. For membership students must be juniors or seniors, English majors, and have a B average in English.

Pending confirmation by the society's national office the following students will be members: Beverly Bahkoff of Matthews; Samuel Guffey of Forest City; Betty Clayton of Greer, S. C.; Wanda Haynes of Yadkinville; Kathy Stubbs of Shelby; and Woody Wadsworth of Baltimore, Md.

Scholarship Tests Given

Gardner-Webb's annual $10,000 competitive academic scholarship tests were given Saturday morning, March 25 at 9:30, according to Robert W. Abrams, director of admissions.

The program includes ten scholarship worth $500 each; ten worth $250 each and 25 worth $100 each. High school seniors and graduates who have taken the college board tests and are recommended by their high school principals competed for the scholarships.

Red Cross Course To Be Taught

The American Red Cross Instructor's Course will be taught Tuesday through Thursday, April 4-6. The class period will extend from 6:30-9:30 each evening. There will be no cost involved in taking the course. All interested individuals who have earned a standard and an advanced first aid card within the past two years are asked to sign up on the bulletin board in Best Gymnasium. "Students anticipating summer employment in recreation will benefit from taking this training," states Mrs. Dan Proctor, instructor for the course.

Declarations of Intention Due Soon

All students planning to return for Summer School or the Fall Semester should file "Declarations of Intention to Retain Membership in the Student Body", and pay their reservation deposits, according to Robert W. Abrams, Director of Admissions.

Declarations of Intention and deposits will be accepted through April 15. The purpose is to determine how many returning students to expect for Summer School and Fall Semester.

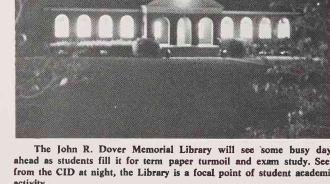

Returning students will be given first choice in housing and assignments must be made prior to the assignment of housing to incoming freshmen and transfers about May 1.

Consideration is being given to plans for pre-registration for the Fall Semester and if these plans are finalized only those students who have filed Declarations of Intention and paid their deposits will be allowed to pre-register.

Boarding students make $100 deposits and obtain their housing assignments from Martin Banner. They are not required to make deposits. They are credited to the students' accounts for the Fall Semester, and they are refundable through May 1, but they cannot be returned for any reason, except inability, after May 1.

Forms for the students' use may be obtained at the college Business Office in the Webb Building. They are to be returned there after completion when the deposits are made.

The John R. Dover Memorial Library will see some busy days ahead as students fill it for term paper turmoil and exam study. Seen from the CID at night, the Library is a focal point of student academic activity.
