

Now—More Than Ever Before

NOW IS THE TIME to prepare for the spring election of Student Government leaders. Election day is not until April but now is the time to begin planning and campaigning.

The present executive council has shown what effective contact, cooperation, and communication can accomplish. The SGA has become a respected and active student power on Gardner-Webb's campus. The strides and advances of this year have not gone unnoticed and will even be more evident in the years to come.

There will be six elected officers for next year and these six will be responsible for carrying through and permanently establishing this year's renovations and achievements—they will build for the future. Now is the time to look around for the "right" six people to fill the shoes of this year's executive council.

Let's support our officers for the rest of this year. With Spring Jubilee and graduation the best part of this year is yet to come; but let's start searching for some able candidates to carry through next year.

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their country." The point is NOW IS THE TIME. . .

Boredom—The plight Of Man

Boredom is the plague and incurable cancer of the twentieth century. It is not simply a small-Baptist-liberal arts college-phenomenon but a universal malady. "Nothing to do" is the slogan of the seventies.

The problem is not literally that there is nothing to do but that man is bored with life's dilemma. A sniper stands on a rooftop killing the people below because he is bored; a student is looking for excitement when he turns to drugs and alcohol; hijacking is becoming a popular pastime; and the rate of attempted suicide is contagiously increasing because of man's listlessness. There seems to be nothing else to do and the thrill and challenge of doing something illegal and untraditional becomes a necessary remedy.

When boredom sets in, life becomes a dead end. Where does the fault lie? What is the cause of mass boredom? Is there a cure? And most important is the question: What is the cure? The answer to these questions will reveal the blight of man.

Boredom hosts apathy and hate and will eventually be man's greatest incurable disease. WARNING: Boredom is hazardous to your health and your sanity.

'Right Arm Of SGA'

Alpha-Nu-Omega is the campus Inter-Club-Council and is composed of the presidents of all clubs and organizations. Mr. Tom Poston stated that the council is the "right arm of the SGA."

The purpose of the Inter-Club-Council as stated in the constitution is to unify all campus activities so that there will be greater student participation, to further coordinate campus activities, and to promote interest and progressive participation of inactive organizations. Alpha-Nu-Omega serves as a council to co-ordinate the schedule of organizational meetings and activities, and as a means to facilitate communication among all organizations on campus.

The council meets the second and fourth Thursday of every month. Any recognized club on campus is approved by a majority of vote by the ANO-ICC and the Student Life Committee and Executive Committee of Gardner-Webb. Any club that fails to comply with the procedures and guidelines may be placed on probation for an period of one semester. Negligence in attending the meetings is also reason for probationary action.

One important function of the ANO-ICC concerns fund raising on campus. Any organization that is an approved campus club and wishes to endeavor in a money-making project receives permission through submitting the proper forms to the ANO-ICC. If the council approves the endeavor then the request is submitted to the Student Life Committee for final approval. The request for any fundraising proposal is first submitted to the Inter-Club Council who has the power to grant or deny permission.

Alpha-Nu-Omega also functions in the preparation of the college calendar listing regular club meetings and events. Club presidents meet together and this prevents the scheduling of two or more campus activities and in preparing an accurate calendar of campus events and individual club activities.

Alpha-Nu-Omega is a channel to determine the relevance of a club and will serve as an agency to eliminate the existence of clubs that have no proposed activities or purpose. The council will eliminate clubs that exist in the handbook but not in reality. Each club that is a member of the council presents a constitution except for the publications and class presidents.

The advisor for the ANO-ICC is Mr. Tom Poston. There are thirty-four clubs and organizations presently in existence on campus. The Chairman of Alpha-Nu-Omega is Bob Decker Jr., who represents the day Students. The other officers include Vice-Chairman Leland Kerr who represents BSU; the Secretary is Samala High who represents the PILOT; and the Financial Coordinator is James Dick of the Young Republican Club.
