BULLDOG SPORTS

By Larry Thomas

This Saturday the Bulldogs travel to Newberry, S.C. to take on the Indians of Newberry College, who are coming off a 5-5-1 record in 1973.

One of the losses the Indians suffered last year was a 23-14 defeat at the feet of the 'Dogs, and since the first game of this season is against Gardner-Webb, they will certainly be motivated against the Bulldogs.

The Indians should be improved over last year with a large number of starters returning, among them all the fullbacks and running backs. Because of this, the Indians are expecting the best rushing offense in recent Newberry history.

One great loss to the Indian team was their number one quarterback's graduation. He had started since his freshman year and will be hard to replace. Now the chore is placed on the passing arm of a local high school product, Stuart Leslie, a junior from Newberry.

Their offensive line returns intact, this year led by All-District NAIA Allen New and co-captain Mike Harper, a two year starter. But the success of the 1974 edition of the Newberry Indians will depend on how soon their defense matures into a unit, and how they cope with the loss of Greg Harlow, who was drafted by the St. Louis Cardinals of the NFL.

On Saturday, September 28, the Bulldogs play host to the Terriers of Wofford College. Last year the Terriers suffered their first losing season since 1968 including a 35-20 loss to the 'Dogs.

This year's team will have several plus factors over last year featuring a new head coach and a 1000 yards-plus running back, along with a senior quarterback who passed for 1400 yards last year and rushed for 518.

The new coach is Steve Satterfield, a former South Carolina quarterback, and Clemson varsity coach. He helped install the year offense at Clemson last year and has brought the popular offensive scheme with him to Wofford.

The Terriers have 31 returnees from last year's team around which they expect to build a winner this season. Among them will be Carter Davis, the quarterback who has established two school records, compiling over 1900 yards in total offense last year accounting for 25 touchdowns.

Also returning will be junior Rick Satterfield who led the state in rushing in 1973 with 1198 yards on 227 attempts.

Defensively, the Terriers must improve after allowing 24.9 points per game last year, and giving up over 150 yards passing per game.

Opponents two and three, Newberry and Wofford, will present seasoned teams to go against our Bulldogs. Both teams lost to the 'Dogs in 1973 and will be looking for revenge this year. Make plans to go with the team to Newberry and be sure to stick around and support them as they host the Wofford Terriers on September 28.

Players Of The Week

Two football players, junior, Bob Bolic, and sophomore, Marcus Trivette, were named players of the week for Gardner-Webb College.

These two young men played an important part in the 14-14 tie of the Bulldogs with Lenoir Rhyne Saturday night in Hickory.

Coach George Litton said that he must have to get an even better performance out of his entire team if the Bulldogs are going to stay in the game with the tough Newberry Indians Saturday night in Newberry, S.C.

"Newberry has a very fine ball club and the Indians are probably one of the biggest teams we will face this year," said Litton. "They have a fine fullback in Ronnie Harwell, a senior, who gained almost five years every time he carried the ball last year."

Bolic, a product of Union, South Carolina, is a 6-4, 250 pound offensive tackle for the Bulldogs and according to offensive coach, Steve Curtis, he graded out "very high" and was cited for some fine downfield blocking in the Lenoir Rhyne game.

Trivette, a Newton native, was credited by the coaching staff with eight tackles in which he was the lone man and assisted or made contact in 12 others. According to defensive line coach, John Taylor, Trivette graded out at 75% and "didn't make any serious mistakes." Taylor said that Trivette showed "exceptional leadership along the defensive front."
