

Bulldog Sports

Gardner-Webb College's highly ranked basketball team turned down a bid to the National AAU Tournament in Baton Rouge, La., according to head coach and athletic director, Eddie Holbrook.

Holbrook said that despite the team's fine record for the year and their love to play basketball it was felt it would be for the best interest of the team and the school if they did not accept the bid to play in the 16team tournament.

"First, we were on our spring break for nine days," said Holbrook. "Second, the guarantee which the AAU offered us would not pay for our expenses and we did not feel the school should absorb the additional cost."

The Bulldogs closed out their season with a 23-3 record, one of the best in the country and ranked fourth nationally in both the NAIA poll and the college division poll of the Associated Press.

The Bulldogs failed to even make the NAIA District

26 tournament as all three of their losses came at the hands of district 26 teams.

COACH JIM TAYLOR WITH HIS NETTERS.

Netters Open Season Tomorrow

Last year the netters finished the season strong with 3 straight victories over Mars Hill, UNC-Asheville, and Lenoir-Rhyne College. The Dogs have 4 returning nettsmen and they are

Randy Alexander, Bert Brimberry, and Lee Clayton. Tim Gregory also started last season but he is having cartilage trouble in his knee and he might be doubtful. Due to a fine fall season, senior Bob Decker will see action. Juniors Steve Sloan, David Watson, and Abe Jamshidi will add to the teams strength along with freshman Jim Hildreth.
