

Jets coach Holtz to speak at banquet

New York Jets head coach Lou Holtz, nationally recognized for his explosive football teams and inspirational after-dinner speeches, will be the featured speaker at the annual Gardner-Webb Sports Banquet Saturday.

The banquet which honors all Bulldogs athletic teams will begin at 6:30 p.m. in the Charles I. Dover Student Center. Tickets are $5.00 per person and are available from the Gardner-Webb Athletic Office, Boiling Springs Drugs, and Suttle's Drugs in Shelby.

Beginning his first year in the professional ranks, Holtz was head coach at North Carolina State for four seasons, 1972-75, and compiled the best four-year mark in the history of the school, 53-12-3. During the span, the Wolfpack appeared in four bowl games and finished among the nation's Top 20 three times.

Holtz was voted the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year in 1972 and led the 'Pack to the ACC championship in 1973.

Bulldogs sign 6-6 cage star

Ed Cook, a 6-6, 216-pounder from Statesville, has signed a basketball grant-in-aid with Gardner-Webb.

Cook will graduate this spring from Frederick Military Academy in Portsmouth, Va., where he was co-captain of the team. He averaged over 11 points and 10 rebounds per game on a team that had all starters scoring in double figures.

Frederick was 19-5 this season playing on the college-prep level.

"Ed is a fierce competitor," said Gardner-Webb coach Eddie Holbrook. "He's a hard-nosed player and will fit perfectly in our style of pressure and aggressive basketball."

Cook played two seasons at Statesville Senior High School where he was named Most Improved after his junior year when he averaged 14 points and 10 rebounds for the Grayhounds. In addition he was an outstanding member of the golf team.

At Frederick, Cook was featured in the High School All-American volume for 1975-76. To be considered for this award, he had to distinguish himself in athletic performance, sportsmanship and extra-curricular activities. He is also a member of the scholastic honor roll. Cook plans to major in mathematics.

Golfers champions again; will compete in Nationals

For the second straight year, Gardner-Webb has won the NAIA District 26 golf championship. The Bulldogs edged Elon by one stroke, 601-602.

The 36-hole district tourney was played at the Sapona Country Club in Lexington. High Point finished third with a 635 total and Atlantic Christian was fourth at 638. Catawba rounded out the top five with a 644 total.

Bulldog Rodney Morrow captured the individual medals title by winning a sudden-death playoff over Elon's Chuck Waters. Morrow opened with a one-over-par 73 then turned in a two-over 74 for a 147 total. Waters fired 75 on the first day but recorded a par 72 to force the playoff.

Wayne Myers was third at 149 with rounds of 72-77 and Jimmy Franklin came in with a 151.

Morrow, Myers and Franklin made the All-District team.

Other Bulldog scorers were Charlie Mack, 156, and Zim Zimmerman, 159, and Danny Phillips, 162.

"We didn't play well the final day, but fortunately nobody else did either, said

Garland Allen. "We'll certainly have to play better than this to do well in the nationals."

The Bulldogs will compete in the NAIA national tourney June 1-4, at Alamance Country Club in Burlington. Gardner-Webb finished third nationally last summer.

The 'Dogs have now won the District 26 crown three of the last four years and four times in the last six seasons.

Gridders to face all SAC-8 foes

Gardner-Webb will play a 10-game football schedule this fall.

The Bulldogs will open the season Sept. 11 at Wofford and play 10 consecutive weeks. The schedule includes games with each member of the South Atlantic Conference plus non-conference opponents Wofford, Liberty, Va., and Georgetown, Ky.

Gardner-Webb will play four games at home in Spangler Stadium, the first being Sept. 25 against Mars Hill. Other home games are Oct. 2 against Liberty, Oct. 16 against Catawba and Oct. 30 against Elon.

Catawba will be the Bulldogs' opponent during Homecoming weekend.

"We'll be playing a tough schedule, but a good one," stated WG Head Coach Oval Jaynes. "I'm delighted we will be playing 10 straight weeks and that all of the SAC-8 teams are on our schedule. When everyone in the league plays everyone then you can determine a true conference champion."

Gardner-Webb will open the conference portion of its schedule the second week of the season by visiting Newberry. Defending SAC-8 champion Lenoir-Rhyne will entertain Gardner-Webb Oct. 9.

Six games will be played on the road. In addition to Wofford, Newberry and Lenoir-Rhyne, the Bulldogs will travel to Carson-Newman, Oct. 23, Presbyterian, Nov. 6, and Georgetown, Nov. 13.

Bolick gets pro chance

All-America tackle Bob Bolick has signed a free agent contract with the New York Jets of the National Football League.

A four-year starter for the Bulldogs, Bolick was the lone senior on the offensive unit this past season. He was selected to the NAIA District 26 All-District team for the second time and was voted to the South Atlantic Conference All-Conference squad.

"I'm tickled that Bob is going to have an opportunity to play professional football," said WG head coach Oval Jaynes. "I'm disappointed that he wasn't selected in the NFL player draft, especially with two expansion teams entering the league, but Bob's happy with his arrangement with the Jets."

The Jets also begin the 1976 season under a new coaching staff, headed by Lou Holtz, former head coach at North Carolina State.

Title IX issue discussed

cern, everybody thought we had to be in compliance by July 21. That's the date you've got to submit your report, of where you are. I've long advocated that we'd be a lot better off if we had the right kind of person, man or woman, living in the dorms. I've advocated that ever since I've been here and that's 14 years. In fact, many of the dorms at one time had house mothers and they can perform a very valuable service. There's just sometime you need somebody around who can just speak a word and keep down a lot of problems that might exist.

"Now, I think they've used the word curfew; if you say curfew to me, it means you've got to be off the streets at night by 6 o'clock, or something like that, you know. Well, I think they should verbalize it more positively and say that if you have a 'coming-in time' for women they should be alike for men, and that's true. Now, how we handle that is open for discussion. You can handle it different ways.

"Some (colleges) have no rules whatsoever. Well, I think you know that as long as Gardner-Webb is in existence, we're going to have certain rules and we're not going to advocate, for example, co-educational dorms. I'm against that. I don't think it has any purpose in our setting. Of course there are many that think our rules are not all that bad to begin with and if you state them negatively, yes they're bad.

"I don't know how we're going to handle this program, because I have not seen their recommendations, and I have not even met with the Title IX committee. You see, there's nothing officially been done about it."
