Farewell, Seniors

by R. Shawn Lewis

The Senior Year. In a few short days, seniors everywhere will be receiving what they have worked for their entire lives, a college degree. What will you do with this piece of paper? hang it on a wall or put it to good use? The future is here seniors; what are you going to make of it?

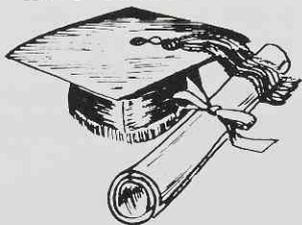

For some, the future is pleasant, maybe a job with IBM lies ahead. For others, however, the uncertainty of a steady job makes the future appear gloomy. Another major undertaking which looms in the future, is marriage and the providing for a family. These are things that education has not taught you, seniors- it's up to you to handle them. But enough depressing talk, let's talk about the good ahead.

Total independence. Your day has finally come to be a "freebird". You call the shots and make the rules.

Ultimately, after 21 years of confinement, you can decide what is good for you. You're an ADULT now.

When you walk across that stage a few days from now, do us all a favor seniors- make something of yourself. You control your destiny. These last few days are for you seniors; you have earned them.

Special O's, Really Special

Congratulations to Dr. Lonnie Proctor and to all who participated in Special Olympics. The event continues to be an olympic task for its organizers, but one whose special contributions to this community outstrip measurement.

When people care enough to DO their very best — without asking what they will be paid or how they will be recognized — service is personified. The pleasures of that day illustrate for us all what THE MAN said when he said "follow me."

It's Over.
Let's Party!

Spring Jubilee '87 A Night To Remember

The various programs the Student Center Board (SCB) sponsors are made possible through the allocation of $25 per semester for each full-time student. These programs include concerts, movies, coffeehouses, comedians, dances, and other special events such as Homecoming and Spring Jubilee. The Board attempts to arrange these functions so that there is no other charge to the student body. So far the Board has been successful with this task.

The Social Committee (co-chaired by Brent Winslow and Beth Whitley this year) aids the SCB with special events such as Homecoming and Spring Jubilee. They take care of such details as theme, colors, decorations, and menu.

This year, the SCB and Social Committee worked hard to make this year's Spring Jubilee the best ever. The festivities began on Wednesday, April 22 with a bowling party at Major League Lanes in Shelby.

On Thursday, the SCB presented Steven Spielberg's Academy Award winning "Back to the Future", starring Michael J. Fox. Friday, a concert was held in Paul Porter Arena featuring the Spontanes and Walk the West. The Spontanes are a highly reputable Charlotte band that specialize in performing cover versions of everyone's favorite Top 40 hits. Walk the West is a young band out of Nashville that has just recently signed with Capitol Records and just released their first national album. Although they hail from the home of country music, they are not a country and western band. Their music is a conglomeration of many styles and types of music.

On Saturday night the week's events culminated in the Spring Jubilee Dance. It was during this that Beth Whitley was crowned as Spring Jubilee Queen. Although the dance was billed as a semi-formal, the trend was toward tuxes and formal evening gowns. The band for the event was Desire, a popular dance band. The evening proved to be very memorable and the theme echoed: "Spring Jubilee 1987- A Night To Remember."
