Reflections Honors Student Writers

Special to The Pilot

Gardner-Webb's literary magazine, Reflections, has announced the winners in its annual creative writing and art contests. The First Place entry is a poem entitled "Insecticide," by senior Deborah Cravey. Senior Billie Dixon placed Second with her short story "Depot Street," and the Third Place category has been awarded to senior Joan Kyles for her poem "Time Warp." Three entries have been given Honorable Mention status: "He had a degree..." by junior Kathy Henson, "Brilliant moon..." by sophomore Dawn Camp, and "Elegy for Bette Davis," by Cravey.

Each year the English Department sponsors a literary contest for all student submissions chosen for publication in Reflections. Faculty and nonstudent submissions are not eligible for the contest, and all works are judged anonymously by the final contest judges. This year's judges were Ms. Lynn Carpenter-Keeter, Mr. Ernest Blankenship, and Dr. Darlene Gravett.

Instructor of art, Susan Bell, directed the contest for the art works submitted. The winner of the First Place category for art was senior Glenn Johnson, for his piece entitled "Bloodlines." Second Place has been awarded to Tammie Etherton's picture, "Waiting," and Etherton also has the distinction of being the cover artist for this year's issue of Reflections. Freshman David Hartman placed Third in the contest with his work "Fading Memories."

These and many other fine submissions will be available for public consumption Tuesday, April 24. Copies of Reflections are free to the Gardner-Webb family and can be picked up in the library, the Campus Shop, and other selected locations on campus.

Beth Ralph Named Fulltime Coach

Special to The Pilot

Woody Fish has announced the appointment of Beth Ralph as women's volleyball and softball coach. Ralph, who served as interim softball coach this season, will be the first fulltime women's coach at the college.

"We are extremely excited about the potential for both our softball and volleyball programs with Beth as coach," stated Fish. "She demonstrated this spring her ability to coach, when she took over our softball team at the last moment and guided them to a near .500 record in our first season of fast pitch participation. Her assignment is another example of our efforts to help solidify our women's athletic program."

Ralph is a native of Wilmington, Delaware and she came to GWC in the fall of 1989 as a graduate assistant volleyball coach and physical education assistant. She is currently pursuing her Master's in physical education here at Gardner-Webb.

Faculty Prevails in College Bowl

The championship game of the first annual College Bowl competition was held Thursday, April 12 at 9:30 am in the DCC lounge.

The student team, who had won the March 26th competition giving them the right to take on the faculty, jumped to an early lead.

By half-time the faculty seemed headed for defeat (and early pensions??). The students led 125-70 as the faculty blamed the deficit on old reflexes.

After the half-time break and advice (pressure?) from colleagues, the faculty made a quick recovery and never looked back. At the final buzzer, the faculty stood victorious, 240-170.

Dr. Rudee Boan, emcee of the event, remarked, "It was an impressive performance--student and faculty."

Winning captain Dr. Barry Hambricht said, "Age, age. You learn a lot of things from being older."

Student captain Kathy Henson concluded the day with the declaration, "We'll be back next year."

Congratulations to both teams: Faculty--Drs. Hambricht, Glen Bottoms, Joyce Brown, and Tom Jones. Students--Henson, Karen Greene, Paul Kelley, and Barry Martin.

Miller Selected for GSU Hall

Special to The Pilot

Gardner-Webb's baseball coach Clyde Miller has been selected to the Georgia Southern Athletic Hall of Fame. He is among 18 to be inducted on May, 4, 1990, the first inductees to the Hall in 30 years.

"We are very excited about Clyde Miller receiving this honor," stated Woody Fish, GWC Athletic Director. "He has been an outstanding addition to our baseball program, to our athletic program, and to Gardner-Webb College in general."

Miller, in his first year as coach of the Diamond Dogs, has amassed a 517-376 record over a twenty year collegiate coaching career. He has been the coach at Indian River Junior College, South Georgia College, Brewton-Parker College, and Newberry College in addition to his stint here at GWC.

"It is without a doubt the nicest honor a former athlete could receive," said Miller. "To be selected into your alma mater's Hall of Fame and particularly to be inducted with the seventeen others is really an honor. It is even more gratifying since I will be inducted along with coach Clements, my college coach, who [sic] I nominated."

Students to Help in Summer Missions

By Dawn E. Camp

GWC sophomore Brian Miller has been chosen to serve as a summer missionary in the Philippines as a part of a major project of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board. 40 students from all over the United States, including two from North Carolina, will be spending 10 weeks in the island nation.

Brian will not find out exactly where he will be and what he will be doing until later this spring. He says that he will probably be working with an urban church. "More than likely, I'll be doing survey work and setting up and leading Bible studies. I might be doing some campus work."

Brian will be living with a Filipino family and working with a partner who, according to Campus Minister Burdette Robinson, may be a full-time missionary.

Brian's position is funded by the North Carolina Baptist Student Union (BSU). He chose to apply and interview for the foreign position. He said, "I knew I wanted to do some type of missions work this summer. Last summer I went to Washington State. I wanted a bigger challenge this year."

Brian will attend an orientation session the weekend of April 20. He continues to look forward to his June 1 departure. "I hope I will be able to witness a lot and reach a lot of people for Christ. But, no matter what, I know I will grow a lot. I can't wait to go."

Congratulations to all students chosen to serve in summer missions. Youth Corps--Stephen Rector, Terry Cranfill, Edith Russ, Jamie Tolbert, Christy Hart. Mundo Vista--Audrey Carlton. Caswell--Amy Sharpe, Lara Self. Ridgecrest--Scott Karstaedt, Ryan McDavis, Kim Roberts. Christian Ministries National Parks--Scott Lawlor. South Carolina Baptist Convention--Lori Bell.

Serving in local churches this summer--Daniel Heeringa, Doug Penninger, Julie Winslow, Daniel Priddy, Heather Bowers, Crystal Timmons, David Magnet, Dave Garner, Jimmy Ferebee, Tracy Deitz, Todd Smith, Angie Lane, Don Durham.
