Question: Dear Ole Wonderful Sir, I'm a big fan of game shows, games shows, game shoes!! And I've always had these dreams of becoming a game show billionaire! Some of my favorite games shows are "Hollywood Squares," "Jeopardy," "The Price Is Right," and "Love Connection." Do you think I would ever have a chance to be a contestant... and if so, who would I write? Thanks ever so much,
John Hinkley

Answer: Dear Mr. Hinkley, Thank for your letter! I'm sorry to tell you that you probably don't have the slightest chance of ever being a big time winner... or in your case a small time winner! But hey, everybody can have their dreams, and who am I to shatter those dreams? Even if they are somewhat demented! So, here you go...

A New World Club

By Greg Carpenter
Staff Writer

"People Who Care: Locating World Markets for American Businesses."

This quote is the motto of the new World Trade Club at GW. This new club will give students a great chance to see firsthand how business works on an international level.

According to Dr. Anthony Negbenebor, faculty advisor to the club, its primary function will be a liaison between local businesses and the new GWC World Trade Center.

Members of the WTC will receive all of the benefits that go along with membership in the Center. Members may make use of the center's international database, communications networks, meeting and office space.

The club is not just open to business majors. Negbenebor insists that students from various majors are needed in the club. It will be beneficial for members from every department because all students will be involved with business in the future.
