NEW VISITATION IN EFFECT

by Greg Carpenter
staff writer

New visitation hours officially went into effect last weekend in each residence hall.

As reported in the last issue of The Pilot, the Student Senate passed a proposal for extended visitation hours.

After the proposal was passed, it was sent to the dean of student development's office, where Be. Jerome Scott, the dean, approved the proposal.

At the last GWU Board of Trustees meeting, Scott was given the authority by the trustees to pass extended weekend visitation privileges.

The proposal for 7 day visitation originally proposed by Student Senate was not

Official Visitation Hours

Friday 3:00 p.m. - 12:00 a.m.

Saturday 12:00 p.m. - 12:00 a.m.

Sunday 1:00 p.m. - 10:00 p.m.

looked upon favorably by the trustees according to Kevin Cloer, student government president in his address to the Student Senate in a recent senate meeting.

Scott actually approved more visitation than what was asked for. In the proposal by the senate, Saturday visitation during a home football game was shortened to 1 to 10 p.m.

Now, Saturday visitation during home football games is 12 p.m. to 12 a.m., the same as any other Saturday.

One group of students who stand to loose in this situation are resident advisors (RA's).

Currently, RA's do not patrol on weekends as they did last year. Each RA on duty in the hall is required to make rounds.

With the new visitation, RA's will have to patrol during the new visitation hours.

Five GWU students get together and sing for Him

by Kevin Walter
staff writer

Surely by now just about everyone on campus has at one time or another heard the group "Together for Him" sing.

The group is made up of five guys, John Cooper, Bernard Ragins, Kris Huffman, Jake Roper, and Jerel Olson.

They got together one day, sort of by accident. Jerel said he was hanging out at the freshman luau when he and John got together and ended up in Jerel's room singing.

One by one the other guys showed up, and the next thing you know the group was formed.

Right now the group has been performing accapela.

"We liked the sound, it appealed to us.", said Jerel.

They are planning on some day adding on some instrumentation to their songs. They feel

They have even dreamed of a day that Together for Him won't just be a singing group but a ministry with preaching, community work, and youth rallies.

that if they just stay with that one style they are limiting themselves.

The group is planning on doing some youth rallies up until Christmas, or until they cannot do anything more. Christmas is when John might leave to pursue a career singing with Warner Brothers. He sang for the company at the request of David Mullins who recently performed here.

The guys feel it would be ideal to find a label for the whole group, but they have all discussed the subject and there is no bad blood between them. They aren't singing for themselves, they are singing for God. They feel God called them to sing together to minister for Him, not for themselves. So that is why there are no problems; everyone is supportive of the others.

They have even dreamed of the day that "Together for Him" won't just be a singing group, but a ministry, with preaching, community work, and youth rallies. The youth are their main focus right now.

After all, like Jerel says, "What do youth have the strongest interest in? Music."

So that is one of the best ways to minister to them.

There is one thing most of you are wondering. Why do they practice in the stairwell? They feel it is the best place acoustically for singing. It gives them the sound most likely to
