

Memories of Patty

Patty's love for the outdoors was evident in her ability to rock climb. Here she is seen getting some help from one of her climbing friends. She no longer has to worry about falling for she has reached the highest peak of all - Heaven!
