Investigation of Dean Scott is waste of time

I recently learned of the Student Government Association's desire to replace Dean Scott as their advisor. What is going on? Do they not realize that they are nothing but a glorified club.

Dean Scott did not purposely ask to be the advisor for the Student Government. It is in his job description as Dean of Student Development.

SGA - You're not the FBI!

In a recent conversation with Dean Scott, Associate Vice-President and Dean of Student Development, I learned of the SGA's investigation of his judicial procedures. And just last week, I discovered that certain SGA Senators are trying to impeach SGA President John Miller. Is this what Student Government is all about?

To me, the Student Government Association is to represent the student body of Gardner-Webb University. It seems lately that those in authoritative positions of SGA are representing no one but themselves and are trying to accomplish what they want.

This is truly preposterous. Does SGA have nothing better to do than stir up controversy? What's sad is that those trying to impeach Miller are led by one who lost the election last year. If the student body felt that their President-Elect could not do the job, then don't you think they would speak out? If the evidence against Miller is true, then allow the students to get involved. Don't try to work under the table. Keep the student's informed of what your intentions are.

As for the allegations against Scott, I only have one comment about that. Dean Scott cares more about his students than any other person that I know of. I ask one simple question: What do you wish to accomplish?

I also learned that there are allegations made by the Senate that Dean Scott shows prejudice when punishing athletes as to other students. Shouldn't he be? I am an athlete and I am constantly reminded by my coach that athletes represent Gardner-Webb University. Dean Scott feels that athletes, Resident Assistant's, Student Government officers and clubs and organizations represent the campus and these people should be held accountable on a higher level.

If someone in any one of these positions can't handle that; then they should quit. And as far as the SGA is concerned, what ever happened to the good ole days when SGA stood for Student Government Association? Today, it seems to mean Student Gone AWOL.

GWU Opera Theatre November 17-19, 1994 8:00 pm - Dover Theatre

The GWU Opera Theatre will present a captivating, contemporary opera by Ron Nelson, The Birthday of the Infanta. The touching story will appeal especially to children of all ages with its 17th century setting in Spain. It involves the story of an "Infanta," a child queen who is not allowed to experience life as an ordinary child. Her tutors therefore bring in an intriguing creature from the forest known as the "Dwarf" who immediately provides the Infanta friendship and entertainment and a temporary escape from the castle.

On November 16, all 5th grade students from the Cleveland County, Shelby City, and Kings Mountain School System will see the Opera at Brown Auditorium as part of the county arts program coordinated with the Cleveland County Arts Council.
